What's in a name?

"What's in a name?" asks the age-old question.

Well plenty, if you ask Romulus Councilmen Gerry Canejo and Jimmie C. Raspberry. Canejo recently challenged the wording on the public forum part of the regular city agenda that reads that a person addressing council "shall" give their name and address.

He suggested that "may" might be a better word. Raspberry agreed and moved that the wording on the back of each agenda be changed from "shall" give their name and address to "may" give their name and address. City Council voted 6-0 to adopt the change, with Councilman Richard Yeramian abstaining.

Well, there's news from another "name" this week — the well-known name of State Attorney General Frank Kelley. It seems that Raspberry subsequently checked with the Attorney General, who "found it an appropriate rule to request that persons addressing the council, board or commission to give their name and address prior to speaking."

Blood drive

Due to a critical shortage of blood supplies in Michigan, Romulus school teachers will conduct a blood drive from 1 to 7 p.m. on Monday, April 27, at Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Road.

Mike Teasdale, organizer of the community project, urges all area citizens to participate in what he hopes will become an annual event. The blood drive will be supervised by the American Red Cross and appointments to donate blood may be made by calling 326-4610 or 326-4611.

Dr. Terrel LeCesne, personnel manager for Romulus Schools, is coordinator of employee participation in the Red Cross blood drive.

Campaign '81 is on

Cantrell Jr. to seek city clerk's job

Raymond Cantrell Jr., city purchasing director, has announced his candidacy for the office of Romulus City Clerk.

A long-time resident of Romulus, Cantrell has been employed by the city for the past six years. He started his employment with the city at the Department of Public Works and in less than a year was promoted to his present job of Purchasing Director.

He started under former mayor, James Stewart, and has been reappointed to this position both terms by the present mayor, William M. Oakley.

During his employment with the city,

What effect will tax bill have on schools?

What impact will the May 19 proposed property tax proposal have on local schools?

That's the question almost every school administrator is pondering as the day of decision approaches.

School officials are scrambling about trying to determine the possible impact. Particularly concerned are local school officials who are already under the impact of massive state aid cutbacks and other problems connected with Michigan's depressed economy.

The May 19 proposal is being backed by the governor and the state legislature as an answer to Michigan's property tax woes. Many state officials will admit readily that it is an attempt to not only extend property tax equity, but to head off the Robert Tisch steamroller that seems destined to impose some type of property tax roll back whether state officials like it or not.

Tisch, a Shiawassee County Drain Commissioner, has been unsuccessful in getting his tax propositions passed in the past, has another one of his radical proposals ready for the ballot. What Tisch III's ramifications are is not clear at this time.

Romulus School officials view the May 19 proposal with mixed emotions. Board of Education President Wayne Avery indicates the proposal appears to provide much needed property relief, but there's much confusion as to what effect it will have on school programs when it is implemented.

"We were told by the people in Lansing that they have to pass 14 enabling pieces of legislation if the proposal passes. No one is sure exactly what will happen to local revenues or to individual tax bills for that matter," said Avery. "We've asked our Superintendent to keep the Board posted by doing an analysis of the proposal as soon as the details are available."

The proposal calls for a reduction of property taxes levied for operating pur-

ZBA backs Planning Commission on DetRo sludge plant decision

... Plant shouldn't be permitted to built in M-2 property

DetRo suffered two more setbacks last week in its efforts to build a sludge composting plant in Romulus.

First, the Planning Commission studied seven items to make a factual determination of its previous denial of DetRo's site plan for the plant on Goddard Road, east of Wayne Road.

After the study, the Planning Commission voted down each of the seven items, citing the fact that DetRo failed to provide requested and required information.

Last Wednesday night, the Zoning Board of Appeals once again tackled the appeal of DetRo to have the site plan approved. Neither the DetRo attorney, John Roche, nor any other DetRo officials was present at either the ZBA or Planning Commission meetings last week.

The ZBA, after extensive review of the Planning Commission's findings on the seven issues two nights earlier, voted unanimously that the Planning Commission was correct in ruling that the sludge plant was not permitted in the M-2 zoned district on Goddard Road.

Wednesday's ZBA decision reaffirmed two previous rulings by the Planning Commission that denied DetRo building the sludge plant.

On hand for the Planning Commission's special meeting last week were B. David Sanders, city planner, and Charles Lowther, city attorney. Lowther reviewed the summary of facts of the site plan application submitted by DetRo Recovery Products.

He told Planning Commissioners that the purpose of the meeting and the findings should be sent to the Zoning Board of Review since DetRo was appealing the Planning Commission's decision of denial of their site plan.

Five of the nine Planning Commissioners were present, including Philip Renke, Jack Barton, Mike Prybyla, Fred Williams, who was recently appointed to the group, and Don Treder. Richard Yeramian was absent, while Wayne Avery, Patrick Hogan and Duwayne Martin were excused.

Each issue was reviewed in depth and then voted on.

Going, going gone

This historic building, which dates back to before the turn of the century has been completely demolished. It's gone now, but it was the former Community Methodist Church building in Romulus which was demolished to make way for the attractive modern church built right next door. Somehow there is a sense of loss when an historic building, which ties us to the past, is removed from the scene.

500-foot wide drain 'in heart of Huron' has residents angry

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Huron Township Board of Trustees has gone on record as unanimously objecting to a proposed 500-foot wide drain through the heart of the community that they say would be "a five mile long treatment plant resulting in objectional environmental conditions."

The board strongly voiced its opinions against the placing of the Ecorse Creek Diversion Drain that would cut a wide path between Inkster Road and Middlebelt.

Supervisor Richard F. Sullivan fired off a letter last week to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), and a host of other agencies and high elected officials, telling of the township's strong displeasure and opposition to the drain being placed in Huron.

"Following the decisive action by the Huron Township Board of Trustees relative to the 'Diversion Drain,' we are directing through this communication, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments to have this alternative removed from consideration in the A-95 review by the Federal Government," Sullivan stated in his strongly-worded letter.

"We are sympathetic to those communities faced with the drainage problem and possible flooding historically associated with the Ecorse Creek (Drain). The problem is serious. A solution is imperative and costly."

"However, the people of Huron Township are opposed to a solution to the Ecorse Creek (Drain) problem that demands a further sacrifice by the people of Huron Township of their assets to accommodate the desires of their neighbors — no matter how near or how far removed. We will not accept, not tolerate, such a program. Through the years,

Council moves on Cable TV

Work on obtaining Cable television for Romulus is moving forward as the committee has received approval of City Council and is conducting informal interviews with representatives of Cable TV companies for an eventual Romulus Cable Television Ordinance.

Council recently voted 6-0, with Ray Cantrell abstaining, to concur with Mayor Pro-Tem Mary Ann Banks' request that the Cable TV Committee authorized to complete the charge forth when it was commissioned last fall.

Here is Mrs. Banks' report and recommendation to City Council that was approved:

"As you know, investigation of cable television for the city of Romulus was started over 18 months ago. The vehicle first used was the Western Five who inquired into obtaining a franchise for five communities. Although much work and investigation took place by the Western Five, no decision was made by Romulus.

"We are now in the process of making our own decisions on how cable television will be implemented to serve our citizens. Council concurred with my request in October 1980 to form a Cable Television Committee. This committee was charged with researching a cable T-V Ordinance for the city of Romulus.

"The Cable Television Committee has met many times, accumulated much data, has had consultations with individuals involved in Cable T-V and made a visitation to another city which already has cable T-V in operation.

"The committee members have worked hard and diligently seeking information. They are sincerely concerned about cable T-V and are interested in having a system tailored to the unique needs and desires of our community. The committee has been productive, enthusiastic and dedicated. Through their involvement and research they have gained awareness in many areas of cable T-V which must be considered before implementation.

For mayoral sakes!

A mistake in the printing on tickets for a fund-raising party caused some uneasy moments for City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar and Deputy Clerk Linda R. Choate last week.

Folmar is running for the office of Mayor and Mrs. Choate is seeking election to the Clerk's office.

"It has come to our attention that there is a mistake on the tickets printed for our April 25 Announcement Party," Folmar said. It seems the little word "for" was inadvertently omitted.

The tickets state: "Committee for the 80's hosts an Announcement Party — Leonard J. Folmar, Mayor and Linda R. Choate, Clerk, April 25, 1981, Airport Hilton Hotel, 31500 Wick Road, Romulus, Music by: John Wallace. Donation $12.50 per person. Open Bar."

All of the information is correct except that it should have read: "Leonard J. Folmar for Mayor and Linda R. Choate for Clerk" — instead of having a comma between their names and the office they are seeking.

"We want to say we're sorry for the mistake on the tickets and did not mean to imply in any way that we were the incumbents," Folmar said. "In fact, one of our good friends, who noticed the mistake, brought it to our attention."

"We contacted Larry Verbiest,

RAY CANTRELL JR.

Romulus is ready to hear from cable TV representatives

Treasurer Beverly McNally has served as Chairperson of the Cable TV Committee since its inception last fall and has worked hard to make cable television a reality in Romulus.

Here is her memo to City Council just prior to that body giving its approval for the committee to go ahead and informally interview cable television representatives to develop a standard application form for an eventual Romulus Cable Television Ordinance.

This is what Mrs. McNally reported to Council:

"The City Council has been provided minutes and correspondence related to the activities and meetings of the Cable T.V. Ordinance Committee.

"Considerable community interest has followed the activities of the Committee and rarely does a day pass without one or more calls from citizens inquiring as to the progress of cable in Romulus.

"In the course of the past four months, the Committee has held a number of meetings and also made field trips to attend a conference in West Bloomfield and make an on-sight inspection of the Cable system in operation in Allen Park. While there, an extensive interview was held with Dick Huebler, controller for the City of Allen Park and initiator of their system.

"There has been a meeting with Cable consultant, John Rickles, 100 Renaissance Center, 15th Floor, Detroit.

"Each of these meetings and field trips has been well attended by a representative group of committee members and a wealth of material and expertise has been acquired. Sufficient information upon which to base some serious evaluations and decision making.

"It is at this point that the Committee has elected to return to the City Council for clarification and direction.

"In reviewing the initial tasks assigned to the Committee on October 28, 1980 by Mrs. Banks, the committee finds itself limited to responding to the second aspect of the assigned tasks: that of recommending a combined ordinance and franchise agreement.

"As to the ordinance, the committee finds that in order to draft a document that is current with technology and progress and including new innovations in the Cable field, it is necessary to meet with providers. In order to protect the integrity of the Committee, contact with Cable Providers has not been encouraged and a majority of the Committee members felt they lacked sufficient direction from the City Council to initiate such meetings.

"Responding to the second task assigned by Mrs. Banks; whether the City should adopt regulatory ordinance and a separate franchise ordinance or combine the two into one comprehensive ordinance. The Committee recommends that they be combined into one comprehensive document.

Council takes step closer to cable TV fore awarding a franchise. The work they have done has been very time-consuming.

"The Cable Television Committee has completed their first charge as outlined in my request of October 28, 1980.

"Because further planning and investigation is a necessity before acquiring a cable television system in Romulus, it would be feasible for the Cable Television Committee to continue to operate interacting and assisting the city council through a number of steps.

"Have the committee do informal interviewing of representatives from cable T-V companies for the purpose of surveying options and developing a standard application form which includes criteria for proposals for an eventual Romulus Cable Television Ordinance. This will be a standard form requiring succinct information from companies which all candidates will be required to complete. This form and criteria will be presented to council for approval.

"If council accepts the form stated above, companies would be required to respond utilizing our application form. The committee recommends a filing fee be requested (non-refundable). Council shall decide if there is to be a filing fee and establish the amount. The filing fee would be paid upon submission of the formal proposal from the company. A deadline should be established for accepting proposals. Sixty days from the date of first advertisement is general procedure.

"If the council wishes to delegate this authority to the committee, the committee will assume the duty.

"Continuing with the Committee's duties in assisting council, the following steps would be recommended:

"I. Have committee review proposals and make a comparison sheet based on information given from companies.

II. Committee meets with council at a workshop session submitting the comparison sheet for discussion. The Committee may make a recommendation to council regarding those companies which they feel have the best proposals for the city of Romulus.

"The final steps rest with council, i.e., holding a public hearing (s), meeting with representatives from companies and making the final decision awarding a franchise and adopting an ordinance.

"Because of the knowledge the cable television committee members have attained through their research, and their continued interest in cable T-V for Romulus, it would be advantageous for the committee to continue to function and complete the items listed above (Step One, Items I and II).

"It is advisable that the Mayor be included in this segment of planning. I have asked him to join the committee if it continues.

"Council is reminded that they alone have the responsibility to grant the franchise and it is not my intent, nor is it the committee's intent to usurp council's legal right and responsibilities. However, this committee can do much of the ground work to assist council and stands ready and willing to continue to work towards making cable T-V in our community a reality.

"I would appreciate council's concurrence in having the committee complete charges as listed in this memo. Thank you."

DetRo suffers another setback

ZBA backs Planning Commission decision

The seven issues and the resulting votes were as follows:

Motion by Renke, supported by Barton that a full and complete chemical analysis for sludge has not been submitted to the Planning Commission for review and is necessary for adequate site plan review. Vote was 4-0, with Williams abstaining.

Motion by Renke, supported by Prybyla that an in-depth environmental assessment had not been submitted to the Planning Commission for their review nor the answers to questions from the City Planner. Vote 4-0, Williams abstained.

Motion by Prybyla, supported by Barton that the applicant had not determined and submitted to Planning Commission the amount of sludge to be composted and that can be a relevant factor to the size for plan review. Vote was 4-0, Williams abstained.

Motion by Renke, supported by Prybyla requesting a traffic environmental assessment which will include the total number of trucks hauling sludge into the composting plant and the number of trucks hauling sludge out and whether the compost is to be sold to the general public, how many employees, and the route the trucks will take to the plant site from Detroit, and the return route. Vote was Renke, Barton and Prybyla in favor, Treder dissented and Williams abstained.

On issue 5, a motion by Barton, supported by Prybyla that there must be more specific information in the buffering and landscaping, such as berm and plan for maintenance and landscaping, lack of regard of relocating Shook Drain, topographical survey, outlet for contact detention area, no outlet for treatment plan, and no response to request for detailed information on sludge analysis and ground water profile. The no vote was 4-0, with Williams abstaining.

Issue 6 showed motion by Renke, supported by Prybyla that the site plan submitted, failed to show sanitary facilities, failed to answer question on the maximum amount of sludge to be composted and stored, no sanitary sewer connection and topographical survey, and these items are a must for site plan review. Vote was 4-0, Williams abstaining.

On the final and 7th issue, motion by Prybyla, supported by Barton that some type of bond will be required and the type and amount will be determined when more information is given, the bond will have to be provided for cleanup if the project is abandoned due to the facts stated of insufficient information this bond must be required. Vote 4-0, Williams abstained.

Two nights later, the Zoning Board of Appeals studied the same seven issues and voted 5-0 that the Planning Commission decision to deny DetRo's site plan was correct.

On hand for the ZBA meeting, in addition to all five board members, were Chuck Lowther, city attorney, Dave Sanders, city planner, Attorney Michael Fieler, co-counsel for the City of Romulus, and Hyle J. Carmichael, industrial co-ordinator.

Fieler gave a review of the matters based upon the appeal by DetRo of action taken by the Planning Commission. ZBA Chairman Norman McLenon read a letter from DetRo to the Board of Appeals accompanying a site plan of the Goddard Road site and stating that further information would be sent a couple days prior to the meeting.

Fieler then read a letter from John Roche, attorney for DetRo, stating that neither he nor any of the representatives of the company would be present at last week's ZBA meeting.

Fieler then quoted from his reply letter to Roche, stating how surprised he was that DetRo would not be attending.

He further stated that the City of Romulus had always tried to be fair in reviewing requests for site plans and appeals. City Attorney Chuck Lowther discussed the results of the special Planning Commission meeting two nights earlier and the seven issues that were discussed and voted on.

Attorney Fieler, who is counsel for Romulus in its present lawsuit in court against DetRo, suggested that the ZBA make three separate motions.

He said they should make a motion that the decision and findings of the Planning Commission was correct in not permitting a sludge compost plant within the M-2 district.

The second motion, he suggested, should state that the record or evidence indicated the Planning Commission was correct in denying DetRo's site plan. The third motion, he said, should state that the board's affirmative vote would not take effect for two weeks, to give the applicant time to re-petition.

Treder then made a motion, supported by Campbell, that DetRo's appeal be denied and the Planning Commission was correct in denying the site plan approval. It passed 5-0.

Residents are 'fightin' mad'

Drains cut up Huron

unjust demands have repeatedly been made of the people of Huron Township," Sullivan told SEMCOG officials.

He explained that Huron Township has been stripped of 4,000 acres of land, ideal for building home site, paralleling both banks of the Huron River.

"Not only were these properties removed from the tax rolls," he pointed out, "but were used in the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Park development bisecting diagonally our community for approximately seven miles to provide ideal recreational facilities for a larger Metropolitan area."

Sullivan said the result has been closed roads restricting the movement of traffic within Huron Township as well as making more difficult the ability of the township's fire, police, and emergency rescue unit to respond to and provide service to the people of the community.

"The construction of the I-275 highway removed additional properties from the tax roll as well as the closing of more east-west roads again making the task of providing emergency services more difficult and costly.

"The proposed Ecorse Creek Diversion through Huron Township cutting a path some 500 feet wide and approximately five miles in length would not only remove additional property from our tax rolls but would place the added burden of restricted access to the mile roads, east and west, between Middlebelt and Inkster Roads," Sullivan explained.

He said the area east of the Diversion Drain would be trapped from access to Huron's Sanitary Sewer System. In addition, he pointed out that Huron Township would lose valuable property required to construct the drain and said it would "suffer through the shroud that would be placed over the development of lands adjacent to the drain."

Sullivan added: "Odors, toxicity of water, and unsightliness are not conditions that would encourage the acquisition and development of these properties.

"Sedimentation and chlorination would be required within the retention area and control structures. The proposed diversion is a 5-mile-long treatment plant resulting in objectional environmental conditions in Huron Township.

"Numerous other conditions are created by the diversion drain which will have continuous and long range negative impact on Huron Township. We will not attest to these items at this time, but entrust the knowledgeable staff of SEMCOG to inform the review board of these conditions such that the diversion alternate will be removed from further considerations.

"We have notified the Army Corps of Engineers to refrain from any study of the Ecorse Creek (Drain) Diversion through Huron Township," Sullivan's letter concluded.

can be exceeded only by voter approval. Classes of property are agriculture, developmental, residential, commercial/industrial, and timber cutover.

The amount of revenue that could be generated by a local unit of government on any class of property would be limited to 106 percent of the amount that had been raised by the same levy on that class of property in the previous year. This would be true no matter how much the State Equalized Valuation of the class increased (excluding new construction and improvements).

Romulus School District's net property tax revenue growth will depend on the mix of the classes of the property in a district. This is somewhat confusing and one of the things that is most difficult for people to understand about the proposal.

Schools huddle over consolidation

Romulus Schools' two study groups — Citizen's Finance Committee and Citizen's Consolidation Committee — both met last week and are expected to come up with their recommendations soon.

With the current financial crunch, it seems certain that some schools will be closed. However, a sub-committee of Mary King, Nancy Mitchell, Betty Hamilton and Genevieve Dugan has listed criteria to be considered for selection of schools to be closed.

The criteria is divided into three sections: Impact on the community, Location and Adequacy, and Disposal of facility.

Under Impact on Community, the sub-committee's report contained four things it should do:

- 1) Not endanger the quality of any of the current programs that directly relate to the educational development of the students in the Romulus School District.
- 2) Closing/consolidation of schools to affect the fewest number of students and families.
- 3) In the transfer of students, keep the locale of these students as close as possible to their neighborhood location if at all workable.
- 4) Make the criteria a three-to-four year projection so that some stability can be ascertained.

Under Location and Adequacy, five things were listed:

- 1) Capacity of school building in regards to handling attendance.
- 2) Number of students in each attendance area that are attending currently.
- 3) 1981-82 projection from school administrators as far as how many rooms will be used, left empty or relegated to other purposes, such as offices, speech, music, media.
- 4) Cost of maintenance, operation and vandalism.
- 5) Need for major renovation.

Under Disposal of Facility, they listed three factors. They are: Saleability, leasing or alternative use; Zoning/restrictions and resale value, and consideration of outstanding bonded indebtedness.

Folmar

Wayne County Elections Director, and he said that we should have a story put in our local newspaper, and to notify anyone who had purchased a ticket of the mistake on the ticket."

Folmar and Mrs. Choate recently announced they will support each other's candidacy. Folmar has been City Clerk for all of Romulus' 11 years as a city while Mrs. Choate has worked in the Clerk's office ever since she started working for the city in 1973.

What effect will tax proposal have?

Schools ponder dilemma of May 19 vote

poses on homes only. Reduction would be 50 percent up to a maximum of $1,400. Unlike other proposals of the past, this tax relief would be deducted directly from the individual's property tax bill.

The $1,400 maximum would be indexed to inflation and go up and down each year depending on the increase or decrease in the State Equalized Value (SEV) of property.

In addition, the proposal grants a 50 percent City Income Tax credit to taxpayers capped at a maximum of $100 for each 1/2 percent of local income tax levied.

The amendment also imposes a six percent limit on annual growth of local property tax revenues beyond new construction. The six percent limit applies to each class of property separately and

For example, if residential property in a district increases in value by 12 percent and commercial property increases by only three percent, the revenue limitation would affect only the residential property tax. A reducing factor will be applied to the property tax bill of all taxpayers within that class, only.

The proposed amendment would also provide that the net revenues generated from the state lottery would be deposited in the state School Aid Fund exclusively. Currently, this revenue is deposited in the state General Fund.

The proposal would allow the legislature to assess agriculture and forestry property according to its use value rather than market value.

The proposal would result in a massive loss of revenue to school districts, but the constitutional amendment allegedly guarantees full reimbursement for the loss to each local unit.

Board President Avery said this would be a real plus if it is true. "If we are guaranteed full recovery, the proposal is extremely attractive."

Romulus Superintendent of Schools, Bill Bedell, pointed out an additional plus for the proposal. "Any additional millage voted by our taxpayers would also be subject to the 50 percent cut, so a millage increase may be more acceptable to them," he said.

Until further clarification comes from Lansing, local officials are uncertain as to their support for the proposed amendment. It is certain that local school officials and taxpayers alike will watch closely the state's explanation of the May 19 ballot proposal.

Mousse the easy way

It's not too light, not too heavy and oh, so luscious, this Chocolate Mousse Pie. It has the elegance of a rich French dessert that is yours to create with a few basic ingredients that are streamlined for today's busy homemaker.

The secret of this smooth, creamy dessert starts with Birds Eye Cool Whip non-dairy whipped topping. It is gently folded into the rich chocolate mixture, spooned into the baked pie shell, and chilled till firm. It's almost as simple as that, and while you're at it, you might make two pies and freeze one for future use.

Chocolate Mousse Pie

1/2 cup butter or margarine

3/4 cup sugar
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
2 eggs
1 container (4 oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

Cream butter. Gradually add sugar, beating until light and fluffy. Add chocolate. Add eggs, one at a time, beating at high speed for five minutes after each addition. Fold in whipped topping. Spoon into pie shell. Chill until firm, about 2 hours; or freeze until firm, about 4 hours. Garnish with additional whipped topping, if desired.

Engagement told

The engagement of their daughter, Janna Kay McCollum, to

MISS MCCOLLUM

Satchel Garrison of Madison Heights was announced recently at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. William C. McCollum of Harmony Lane, Belleville.

The bride-elect, a 1978 graduate of Michigan State University where she affiliated with Delta Sigma Theta sorority, is currently employed by the Detroit Public Schools as a math specialist.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Garrison III of Montgomery, Ala., also graduated from Michigan State University in 1978. An affiliate of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, he is now working as senior design engineer for Rockwell International in Troy.

St. Clement Episcopal Church in Inkster has been reserved for the young couple's June 6 altar date.

Tips on planning your retirement

Wouldn't it be great to have an extra 2,000 hours a year to do whatever you'd like?

The answer is "maybe," says a free 62-page book urging Americans to plan seriously for retirement.

The danger of relocating without proper preparation and attempting to adopt a brand new lifestyle are pointed out in the book which includes addresses of many organizations that can help make the retirement planning process a little easier.

The book, prepared by retirement planning experts at one of the nation's largest insurance companies,

Chocolate Mousse Pie for freezing

potpourri

By Lee Smith -- Suburban Living Editor

Surely it's not my age -- I really haven't reached that "old and crochety" plateau, have I? Surely it's my keen eye and sensitive nature that are causing me to cringe and shudder at the performances and non-performances of my fellow man?

But, if the following observations qualify me for those two adjectives, I am definitely in contention for the 1981 O&C Award.

Last week as I did the 55 bit toward Detroit on I-94, I was appalled at what people (?) have made of the service drives where there are no residential sections. They are "beautified" for all to see with monstrous heaps of moldering mattresses, rusty bed springs, battered furniture, tires, refrigerators, bicycle parts, old doors and window frames, toilet bowls and auto parts -- you name it, it's there!

This brand of human filth is further embroidered by the bowels from garbage cans and with the inevitable bottles, cans and newspapers which individuals with pride in their surroundings set out for the junkman or take to the local dump.

It shames me to think what visitors to our area, especially those from other countries, must think of our pig sty landscaping.

I also can't help wondering why sidewalks in business districts can't be the responsibility of the proprietors whose buildings face on these walkways. Too often a shopper has to literally hopscotch around bits of broken glass, pieces of wire, chunks of siding and roofing and, of course, the never ending cigarette butts and packages which smokers, for some reason, feel are their contribution to a beautiful America.

I can't fathom either the fact that in broad daylight -- thieves are getting gutsier by the minute -- the flag we fly in front of our office, right on Main Street, has been ripped off twice. And our neighbors, Earl Keim and Adventure Travel, have both been hit by the same jerk -- Keim losing two American flags and, like Adventure, also his specially-made business banner.

And it turns my stomach to think there those among us who get their jollies by knocking over tombstones and smashing cemetery markers -- slashing tires (Sue found two of hers in that condition prior to leaving for work recently) -- spray painting dirty words, swastikas and graffiti on the walls of churches, schools and other public buildings. Why can't these sickies put all that energy toward something constructive? And when caught and convicted, why are they not made to repair their own messes, pay the expenses through physical labor (cleaning up the highway medians and shoulders for example) and compensating those injured parties for the time, money and inconvenience their little pranks have caused.

Oh, my, I could go on. But I'm not supposed to editorialize in a carefree column such as "potpourri". Sorry, gang, that roadside crud, the junk crumpling under my feet, the loss of our American flag and all the utter, needless vandalism just got to me and since I had a lead to write, it was done so under the power of "steam."

If the time comes that you find yourself north of Chicago, say somewhere in the Skokie vicinity and you're clammering for some good "vittles", track down "Great Godfrey Daniels" eatery. Super cute place, a fun atmosphere (not for intimate tete a tetes, however, it's noisy!), memorabilia everywhere and a terrific menu.

It's different, you feel alive being there and they make a hearty, cheese-covered bowl of chili like I've never seen with a side of chopped onion for added zip. And their nachos make you waddle after you've devoured "em -- they're thickly covered with chili, beans, guacamole and sour cream and fringed with slivered lettuce and tomatoes to help "cool" your mouth.

No, GGD's is NOT a Mexican cantina but that'll give you some idea of the scope of their bill afare which included on our recent visit monk fish, tempura mushrooms and vegetables and two of "the" most sinful desserts you've ever pigged out on -- the hot and sticky, a plenty-for-two chocolate cake, ice cream, hot fudge, whipped cream confection and the bread pudding with sauce amaretto. Both are served very warm in small handled frying pans. When you water down at GGD's, you're in sin city!

TIME FOR MORE AVERAGE AMERICANA

The government's National Travel Survey finds that between January and April, the average American traveler takes 2.2 trips, is away from home 7.6 nights and travels 1,494 miles. Eight times in 10 he or she uses a car or truck for transportation and three times in 10 he or she is going to a convention.

And when that traveler is in a hotel or motel, his most frequent gripe is about poor service. The next most common complaint is about the bathroom -- not enough towels, bars of soap which are too small, no washcloths or bathmats and noisy or non-functioning plumbing.

Other grounds for complaint include: lack of cleanliness; that stale, hotel smell; noise; uncomfortable temperature; the bad restaurant; lack of an ice machine; lumpy bed and malfunctioning television set.

In American divorce cases, Mom gets the kids nine times out of 10. BUT only one divorced woman in seven is awarded alimony and then fewer than half of them receive their payment with any regularity.

And among divorced, separated and single women who are supposed to get money from the fathers of their children, four in 10 never get a dime.

In an average year, 1 million Americans earn bachelor's degrees

Counting labels, signs and everything else, the average American is exposed to 1,800 commercial messages a day.

I thought I'd have a good recipe to pass on to you bakers in the crowd when the United Dairy Industry sent its brochure and included morning fare with the enticing label "Apple Cheddar Cheese Coffeecake". Sounds rather interesting, right? Well, it wasn't -- the cheese flavor just didn't come through and the apples didn't add as much moistness to the mixture as I'd expected.

BUT -- we were invited to Number One Daughter and Son-in-law's in Glenview, Ill. last weekend and she served us a dessert which, if you're an apple pudding addict, you'll want to clip. It came with an accompanying sauce of warm cream, butter and sugar but why add those extra calories when it's just as good with plain cream, whipped cream or even ice cream. Suit yourself. It also called for two cups of sugar but Lu cut it back with no less flavor.

LUANNE'S APPLE PUDDING

1/2 c. shortening	1/2 tsp. salt
1-1/2 c. sugar	2 tsp. nutmeg
2 eggs	2 tsp. cinnamon
2 c. flour	4 c. finely chopped apples
2 tsp. baking soda	1/2 c. chopped nuts

Cream shortening and sugar; add eggs. Alternate mixed dry ingredients and apples. Fold in nuts. Bake in 9x13 greased pan for 40 minutes at 350 degrees.

There've been no book "reviews" of late since I've taken on the rather overwhelming volume of "War and Remembrance" which, in too fine a print and overly dragged out, totals 1,042 pages. Since I read Wouk's "Winds of War" from which this sequel evolves, I'm determined to finish it. But it IS taking forever and I've been reading Maria Callas, her biography, in between for a change of pace. More at a later date.

THE BOTTOM LINE: The man with whom saving is a habit should marry the woman with whom spending is an art.

Home Arts meetings cover car care, herb, spice lessons

A variety of activities and programs were undertaken during the past three months by members of the Home Arts Club. Eula Haft, vice-president, conducted the January meeting in the absence of President Frances Jobe. The care, safety and preservation of the club's recorded minutes, scrapbooks and history were discussed with suggestions for better methods offered.

Following adjournment Charlotte Price, program chairman, directed the group in playing "Uno". White elephants donated by members were used as prizes for each hand played. Hostesses Toni Schwartz, Linda Long and Mary Kosin later served gelatin salad, tea and coffee to the group. In February Claire Steinman was in charge of the evening program and showed two films, "How to Drive Economically" and "Critical Driving Patterns."

From the first the group learned that washing the car clean of corrosive materials is an important part in preventing rust; that the engine should idle about a minute before driving the car to get the oil circulating; that fast starts wear out parts; and the faster a person drives, the more gas a car uses.

The second film involved the position of a car in traffic and the relationship between the car, other vehicles and pedestrians. Driving tips involved following other cars, changing lanes and making right and left turns.

Cherry tarts, tea and coffee were later served by hostesses Elsie Ostrowski, Frances Suliman and Muriel Wolfe.

In March members were introduced to Mrs. Helen Fairman and Duane Shields of the Washtenaw County Extension Service.

Mrs. Fairman began the discussion on "Herbs and Spices" by defining the terms "weeds" and "herbs" and suggesting reference books on the subjects. She briefly told of the uses of herbs throughout history for medicinal purposes, as insect repellents and just for fragrance.

Today, she said, most herbs are used primarily in cooking and she cautioned the overuse of them saying that those preparing foods should start with small amounts to enhance flavors rather than to overpower them.

The group was also given a lesson in the making of herb vinegar using dill, savory and basil with white vinegar.

Mr. Shields then took over and explained how to grow herbs alone or in proximity to other vegetable plants. He said that different herbs could be planted with vegetables for slightly different tastes and that penny royal amid vegetables helps control insects and rosemary grown with carrots and beans helps prevent losses from moths.

He suggested that the group start their own herb gardens with a few favorites such as tarragon, parsley, mint, sage and chives and to place them in small pots or in window boxes.

Air, oven and microwave drying of herbs was also explained and members were told they were welcome to buy herbs at the Ann Arbor Co-op at much lower prices than in grocery stores.

Refreshments of lime pie, tea and coffee were later served by Charlotte Budd and Claire Steinman.

Election of officers will be on the agenda for the April 13 meeting.

'CAC' to study wastewater management problems

A new Citizens' Advisory Committee, made up of local and area township and city officials, will study the problems and the management problems of wastewater.

The CAC will study wastewater treatment alternatives for the Huron Valley North Service Area at 8:30 p.m., Thurs., April 9 at the Northville Township Hall, 41600 Six Mile Rd.

Wayne and Oakland County residents living in the Huron Valley North

Service Area will be enjoying a cleaner environment and improved water quality in the near future if the newly-established Huron Valley Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC), has its way. Public officials, public interest and business representatives, and private citizens, will be advising the Wayne County Board of Public Works in wastewater management decisions for the area geographically covering.

CAC's major responsibilities include making recommendations and providing feedback to the Wayne County Board of Public Works on the development of cost-effective alternatives for wastewater treatment in the North Service Area, expressing local and regional needs, expanding their information network, and guiding a full-scale Public Participation Program.

At their last meeting, CAC members elected Milton Handorf, Director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works as Chairperson, and Roger Copp, Executive Secretary of the Huron River Watershed Council as Vice-Chairperson.

Currently, the other CAC members are: Patricia Cullin, Supervisor, Van Buren Township; John MacDonald, Supervisor, Northville Township; Robert H. Long, Supervisor, Commerce Township; Donald Juchartz, Director, Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service; Leona Riebling, Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi League of Women Voters; W. Richard Whitwam, Chairman, Committee to Protect our Waterways & Wetlands; Marcie Colling, Executive Secretary, Rouge

River Watershed Council; Fae Henris, Citizen from Gibraltar; Walter T. Hink, Attorney, Citizen from Canton Township; Leo Kalota, Vice-President, Manufacturers National Bank & Supervisor, Novi Township; Joseph Stermer, Director, Southern Wayne County Chamber of Commerce; Irvin H.

Yackness, Executive Vice-President, Builders' Assoc. of Southeastern Michigan; and Clifford Zanley, President, Guaranty Federal Savings.

For further information, call Mary Jean Fitzgibbons, Public Participation Coordinator, at (313) 961-4266.

Romulus readying for cable TV reps

"Rationale for that recommendation is that by combining the two the Community is provided protection against future arbitrary rate increases that might be enacted through a simple resolution and without proper public awareness and input. A combined document would provide a safeguard in that any change in rate or agreement would require a 2/3 vote of the body and be subject to public hearing and possible referendum. Also, in the case of a change of franchise, an ordinance would provide the opportunity for revision or amendment keeping the ordinance current with the times and insuring that the public concerns were recognized."

"Although the committee has gathered much information from many highly reputable sources and stands ready to begin to draft a model ordinance, it needs input from providers of Cable service in order to evaluate and include specific requirements that should be included as part of the ordinance to insure their implementation and protections from alteration."

"The committee also recommends that a non refundable filing fee is established by the Council to be required of all those submitting proposals."

"It is also recommended that a consultant's services be utilized to help evaluate proposals and for review of the final draft of the ordinance."

Boy Scouts learn CPR

Boy Scouts of Troop 1071 successfully completed a five week course in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation during the month of March.

The course was given by American Red Cross instructors, Linda and Jeff Hutchison and was sponsored by the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

Boys who completed the course are Bill Beard, Garry Boyd, Scott Herkimer, Graham Hess, Jeff Miller, Chad Mullins, Mike Dolph, James Karolyi and Stan Heuschkel. Several parents of the scouts also completed the course along with other church members.

The Boy Scouts will be demonstrating basic CPR at Southland Shopping Center during the last weekend in April as part of the Mini-Expo sponsored by the Huron District of the Detroit Area Council of Boy Scouts.

Trinity church set for aerobics

Dynamic Aerobics, a fun exercise program set to music, will be offered at the Trinity Episcopal Church, located at 11575 Belleville Rd., in conjunction with the Wayne-Westland YMCA.

The class will be held on Tuesday - Thursday's from 9:30 until 10:30 a.m. starting April 14 and runs until June 25.

In order to provide an effective safe program a health screening will be provided at the first class on April 14th. There are over 300 ladies currently involved in this unique exercise program.

The program is designed to tone muscles, reduce your percentage of body fat and it will elicit the same results as jogging or biking on your heart and lungs.

Dynamic Aerobics is for any woman interested in a fun way of exercising, it is not dance technique we are after but fun and fitness.

Telephone 699-3361 for further information.

Services held for Mrs. Wallace

Merry Maude Wallace, an associate professor emeritus in the Department of Special Education at Eastern Michigan University who retired from her teaching duties at EMU in 1975, died March 24 in Ypsilanti. She was 70.

Wallace joined the EMU faculty in 1946 after earning her bachelor's degree at the University of Wisconsin and her master's degree at the University of Michigan. For 30 years she taught handicapped children, college students and supervised student teachers working off-campus.

Wallace was an active member of several professional organizations. In 1952, she was president of the Council for Exceptional Children and later served as president of the Ypsilanti branch of American Association of University Women and the Ypsilanti League of Women Voters.

Also, Wallace was treasurer for the Michigan Association for Student Teaching.

How safe is your automobile?

How safe is your automobile? Not as safe as it should be in many cases, according to Joe Palmarchuk, service manager at Gene Merollis Chevrolet in Garden City.

Only one-half of the vehicles involved in safety product recalls are returned to the dealership for correction, Palmarchuk notes.

"Most of the recalls don't take very long to correct," Palmarchuk points out. "In fact a lot of them only require a brief inspection."

The service manager advises motorists to save the cost of future repair bills by having all safety problems corrected as soon as possible. These repairs are done free of charge and can be completed at any dealership.

"Contact your local dealer, and they'll be happy to check if your automobile is involved in any product failures," concludes Palmarchuk.

Questions regarding repair work on product recalls can be directed to Palmarchuk at 427-6200. The Merollis agency is located at 31850 Ford Road, West of Merriman.

Pvt. Hammond completes army 'boot camp'

Pvt. Mark W. Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hammond of 13425 Lenmore, Belleville, has completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

During the training, students receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Airman Kevin J. Schmidt, son of LaDonna K. Schmidt of 9879 Van Buren St., Belleville, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Three area servicemen - Air Force Airman First Class Brian K. Taylor of Belleville, Airman First Class Richard A. Cooper Jr., of Romulus, and Airman Mark K. Will also of Romulus participated in Global Shield '81, the Strategic Air Command's (SAC) response to a simulated attack on the United States. Taylor is the brother of Ronnie Taylor of 500 N. Liberty, Belleville.

The service member is among the more than 100,000 U.S. Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps and Canadian personnel taking part in SAC's largest, no-notice, 20-day training exercise.

During one portion of Global Shield, more than 500 B-52 and FB-111 bombers and KC-135 tankers took off from 70 different locations in the United States and Guam within minutes of notification. This exercise is not related in any way to real world situations, according to a SAC spokesman.

Global Shield 81 is designed to test the command's capability to carry out emergency war orders to support U.S. policy if deterrence fails. This exercise has been constructed to measure SAC's response to a set of preplanned events leading up to a simulated attack on the United States, the spokesman explained.

As part of Global Shield, some SAC aircraft deploy to civilian and military airfields selected specifically for the exercise. Additionally, B-52s and FB-111s fly low-level training routes approved by the Federal Aviation Administration. The routes were preselected to help measure the simulated bombing, navigation and electronic counter — measure skills of SAC aircrews.

Cooper Jr. is the son of Richard A. Cooper Sr. of Newport, Mich., and Mrs. Thomas Rowlett of 17707 S. Telegraph, Romulus.

Will is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira G. Will of 18477 Merriman, Romulus.

Army Pvt. Daniel C. Graham, son of Margaret Graham of 17551 Hazel St., Romulus, is attending basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga.

During the training, students receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Spec. 4 Daryle L. Gibson, son of Melvin D. Gibson of 14320 Monterey, Woodhaven, Mich., and Eleanore K. Gibson of 27518 Versailles Lane, Romulus, has arrived for duty in Brunsum, Netherlands.

Gibson is a radio operator.

Airman Mark S. Ford, son of Philip G. Ford of 7975 McGuire, Taylor, and Veverly J. Fryer of 29034 Lorman Road, Romulus, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Army Private Patrick M. McKenna, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Weber of 17528 Oak Grove, Romulus, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

MAY I RECOMMEND BOOK FOR YOU TO READ?

In this column we usually answer a question that represents a concern expressed to me. This time we would like to recommend an excellent book by Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, Questions and Answers on Death and Dying.

This book presents many of the questions which have been asked of Dr. Kubler-Ross by people who have heard her lectures, attended her seminars or workshops on caring for the dying. The answers found in this book relate mostly to adults.

Death is still a subject all too often avoided in thought and discussion — not because we do not care, but because we feel so helpless and find too many unanswered questions about this final parting. This book can provide a thoughtful and constructive guide.

We have a collection of books on the subject of death-and-dying which might be helpful to you, especially if you have a close friend or relative who has died or is close to death. Please consult us whenever we can serve you.

4. Motion by Duey, supported by Quinley to accept the Annual Meeting Minutes of 1980 as read. Motion carried unanimously.

5. Supervisor asked for correspondence from the floor. None.

6. Supervisor asked if any petitions were forthcoming from the floor. None.

7. Old Business. None

8. New Business

- A. Purchase and Sale of Real Estate
 1. Motion by Cox, supported by Quinley to authorize the purchase and sale of Real Estate.
- B. Discussion of Budget and Federal Revenue Sharing Intended Use for 1981-1982 Fiscal Year.

Supervisor asked if there were any questions regarding the Federal Revenue Sharing Intended Use and the Budget for 1981-82 from the floor.

Michael Kohut, 17922 Sumpter Road, asked about the cleaning of ditches and drains and who was in charge of the maintenance of the roads in Sumpter Township.

Pauline Quinley, 22106 Sumpter Road, asked who was in charge of the ground maintenance for the Township.

Trustee Bevins questioned the amount of monies set aside in Block Grant for Planning.

Clerk Banotai added that this is a proposed budget and it is necessary to cut this proposed budget by $25,000 just to meet operating expenses.

Treasurer Duey added that the Township delinquent tax roll is greater this year than it was last year. Collections at the Township level were off over a million dollars of what should have been collected, therefore, the Township collected less in collection fees.

TUESDAY, MAY 19, 1981

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF SUMPTER, COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law" I, the undersigned Township Clerk, will upon any day, except Sunday, and a legal holiday, the day of any regular, or special election or primary election, receive for registration, the name of any legal voter in said Township not already registered who may apply to me personally or (authorized substitute) for such registrations providing, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the thirtieth day prior to any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such elections.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at the Sumpter Township Hall, 23480 Sumpter Road on Monday through Friday from 8:30 o'clock a.m. to 4:30 o'clock p.m. AND THE LAST DAY TO REGISTER:

MONDAY, APRIL 20, 1981

8:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M.

as provided for in section 168.498 of the Michigan State Election Laws.

For the purpose of Reviewing the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING SUCH of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefore, the name of no persons but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the Township at the time of registration and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

The following State Proposal A and Wayne County Proposals B, C and D will appear on the ballot in Wayne County for the Special State Wide Election to be held Tuesday, May 19, 1981.

PROPOSAL A

PROPOSAL TO REDUCE PROPERTY TAXES, REDUCE CITY INCOME TAXES, LIMIT GROWTH OF PROPERTY TAX REVENUES, RETURN ADDITIONAL SALES TAX TO LOCAL GOVERNMENTS AND SCHOOLS AND GIVE STATE LOTTERY PROFITS TO SCHOOL AID FUNDS.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Reduce by 50% homestead property taxes used for operating schools and local governments. Reduction limited to $1,400.00 in 1981 and changed yearly as home values change.
2. Reduce by 50% local individual income taxes on first $40,000 of taxable income.
3. Make state return to local governments all funds lost by above reductions.
4. Limit yearly property tax revenue growth to 6% by property type unless raised by local voters.
5. Raise sales tax from 4% to 5.5%. Raise must be returned to local governments and schools.
6. Let farms and forests be assessed at use value.
7. Give state lottery profits to school aid fund.

Should this amendment be adopted? YES NO

The county vs. Lucas

EDITOR — Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas is determined to continue patrolling the secondary roads of Western Wayne County, a police service that is both wanted and needed by the residents of our area. Although I continue to support the patrol and investigative units, several points in this controversy must be discussed:

1. The issue of Sheriff Lucas versus the Board of Commissioners must be considered separate from the issue of the road patrol. This battle is one between a budget-setting Board of Commissioners and a department head that must act within a budget set by the Board. The fight has far-reaching implications that include, should the Board of Commissioners lose, the possibility that each County elected official will determine their own budget and spend money not allocated.

2. The road patrol cannot and should not be eliminated on such short notice. It is impossible to expect Romulus to set up a complete Police Department in only 90 days. It is also unfair to the Townships to have to pick up the slack of police protection in such a short period of time. Even Canton Township, which has a fine 24-hour department, has 15% of its calls handled by the Sheriff's Department.

3. It is unfair to the men and women of the road patrol to be caught in this constitutional battle between Sheriff Lucas and the Board of Commissioners.

For these reasons and more, I have repeatedly offered resolutions to fund the Patrol and Investigative Divisions beyond its scheduled termination. However, the majority of my colleagues have adopted the position as stated by Commissioner Norbert Wisniewski of Detroit/Harper Woods, "My district already pays for its own police protection, and I see no reason why they should be forced to contribute to the expenses of those other areas of the County as well".

The Board of Commissioners is in a difficult position as it tries to balance its budget. It was felt that because the Sheriff's Department is not mandated to have a road patrol, that this area could be cut. I feel that, unfortunately, many people will suffer as a result.

Perhaps the new County Charter will include a provision for a road patrol. That is but one alternative left open to us.

27th District

Lawmakers and assassins

EDITOR — Our President and the others, who were shot, can partially blame our lawmakers in Washington who have opposed hand-gun controls. Our constitution guarantees... life... liberty... and pursuit of happiness... so these are just words... we do not have strict laws to protect us. So the last 50 thousand people who were killed, did not have the protection guaranteed in the constitution.

And the reason is, guns and ammunition is a very profitable business, who support hunt and gun clubs, and who have a lobby which spent over $20 million to elect lawmakers who would oppose hand-gun controls.

It is not necessary to pass laws that would take guns away from responsible people, who would want them for their own protection. Federal laws are needed that are as strict as they are in some states. Canada has good laws. In Toronto, for example, with 2½ million people, only 12 people were killed in one year. Inflation in this country is also blamed for the rapid increase.

Car owners are required to have a title, and buy licenses. And they must pass tests that they have learned how to drive a car, in order to get a license to drive. So why can't we protect our lives and those we love?

Our lawmakers must have letters from voters to show the lobbyists that people demand these laws.

Otherwise — this may be the beginning of the end of our nation — if people will permit wealthy lobbyists — to deprive rights of each citizen — that are guaranteed in the constitution.

ALBIN L. URBAN

School boards and millages

EDITOR — The procedure that our school board uses here in Van Buren is: when a school millage is voted down by the voters, the board keeps holding elections until the voters approve the school millage.

We voters don't want the increased millage.

Goodfellows express thanks

EDITOR — We, the Canton Goodfellows, thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your generous donation. It is through your generosity that we can insure that every child will have a Christmas and that our Senior Citizens will have food and a gift.

Although, The Goodfellows are visible only at Christmas time, we also assisted families in 1980 that suffered losses through fire and wind-storm disasters. As well as, helping indigent families with the payments of utility bills.

So you can see without your support, we would have faced an impossible situation. Once again we express our sincere thanks.

Why cut senior citizens' program

EDITOR — I have been a member of the Westland Happy Hour Club for 12 years now. I attended our club meeting yesterday and Sylvia Kozorowsky, of the Department of Aging, spoke to us, that on account of the economy there will be a lot of cuts and "Friendship" will be closed if budget isn't met.

Why should the seniors be cut 100%. There could be other cuts than us. Seniors should be provided a place to meet.

It is very cruel for us seniors on low-incomes to be left out. And I am one of them on low income.

Only thing we have left is to come to "Friendship" for a meeting and visit with members from getting depressed is the only thing left of us seniors to look forward to and help ones that need help and their meals brought to them.

Don't be cruel and close the Friendship. There must be a way you can save the program.

Canton chamber is commended

EDITOR — As a resident of Canton Township I would like to commend the Canton Chamber of Commerce for their effort in taking the leadership role in getting us, the consumer, involved in the business community.

They have reduced their membership dues for individuals from $25 to $15 in order that we may become involved, active and share in each others concerns and to work together in solving them.

Each quarter the members have an informative luncheon meeting with a speaker. They encourage any interested resident to attend as a guest. In this way you become aware of all the activities and concerns the Chamber of Commerce is undertaking in order to make Canton Township a better place to live and to do business in.

Edited letter lost meaning

EDITOR — I expected some editing for length, but not for context.

I resent your substitution of the word "conflict" for my more accurate, descriptive word, "shambles," in describing the present condition of the city of Westland.

I suppose I can also see your exclusion of potential candidates. We must spare their feelings, for whatever reason.

Another thought, Westland Mayor Tom Taylor can take full credit for the defeat of his cable television plan. If his plan had any merit, it was negated by his involvement in the consulting firm he had going. Again, if the plan had merit, it's to bad the city lost a badly needed source of revenue because of a seeming conflict of interest.

In search of American P.O.W.s

By REP. RICHARD FITZPATRICK

On April 1, 1981, God willing and all airlines flying on schedule, I'll be in a plane that lands at the Gia Lam airport in Hanoi, Socialist Republic of Vietnam.

I'll be the first American ex-G.I. to set foot in that country since we disengaged ourselves from that unfortunate war just eight years ago this month. Despite the Pentagon Papers and everything else that's been written and said about the war I don't pretend to understand exactly what we were doing there.

But then, as a simple infantryman, I wasn't required to understand. I was simply supposed to do my best to keep that Saigon government from losing the war. To my astonishment, a lot of the South Vietnamese were either opposed to that government or not very enthusiastic about sustaining it. Ask anyone who was there and they'll tell you it was a weird, Alice-in-Wonderland kind of world where questions were not welcomed, and answers were usually obscure at best.

That's all behind us. Now we're living in a world where there is only one Vietnamese government, headquartered in Hanoi. I've had two informal meetings with representatives of that government at U.N. Headquarters in New York, the last one just yesterday. With their cooperation and assistance I've arranged to make this trip as a private citizen.

Why? It started to become clear when I looked at my own mixed emotions on the occasion of the release of our hostages in Iran. Like so many Vietnam Veterans I was glad for them, but somewhat appalled at the recollection of the casualness of our own return home and the apparent lack of concern for the Americans who are still listed as Missing in Action.

It's now been nearly three thousand days since we pulled out and left them, living and dead, as hostages to one of the great misfortunes of our history.

Many Americans are unaware that nearly 2,500 servicemen are still unaccounted for. There were 2,553 military and 41 civilian Americans unaccounted for at official ending of the war in 1973. This figure included 95 prisoners of war; 1,178 killed in action — body not recovered, and 1,279 missing in action. Since then, 75 remains have been returned. There has been no progress for the last three years.

It's my intention, while in Hanoi & Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon), to try to learn more about their fate. I would like to start an effort to confirm the status of at least one hundred Americans before another March rolls around. I believe that whether they were prisoners of war, wounded, or deserters there are at least the many U.S. Citizens who want to return to their native land or whose status can be confirmed.

I would like to enlist the incredible power of American public opinion to help bring that hundred home. Let's tie some ribbons around some more trees on behalf of the 2500 missing, the hundred we might be able to bring home. Let's try to locate them and send the same kind of messages that gave our Embassy hostages hope and encouragement.

Let's utilize the lessons of Iran in a new and continuing effort on behalf of those men who volunteered or were drafted to the most difficult duty Americans ever faced: not winning a war, but not losing it either. Patience... we have had and will have. Perseverance, we promise.

A second trip to further implement this mission is scheduled for June. In it, I will be joined by a number of other Vietnam Vets. I have invited Tony Griffin, a broadcast journalist from Kalamazoo; Jeff Hinman, a friend who I served in Vietnam with; Tim O'Brien, a writer; and Bob Walls, director of The Veterans Military Service Center in Detroit. Others may be added, scheduling problems may affect whether or not these people can go. It will all depend on the success of my trip.

Together, working with officials of the Hanoi government, we will try to cover the country in a quest for information concerning the Missing Persons we seek.

Through every channel open to us, perhaps even through a Third Party government, we will seek common ground where the missing Americans can find freedom and repatriation.

Surely, if we have the will, we can find the skills to bring them home. As always, it takes a first step. Then it takes the mounting pressure of Public Opinion to make things happen, to stir officialdom into meaningful, positive action.

Why am I doing this?

Because someone needs to. I have sat back and watched for eight years — and nothing has happened. Administrations have come and administrations have gone — still no progress has been made. The situation is so tied up with international politics that the concerns of the families and wives of the Americans are forgotten. We have no diplomatic relations with Vietnam. If I can discover any new information that helps a single family, the trip will have been worth while. This trip is entirely privately funded. No tax dollars will be spent.

I do not suggest that I possess qualities that uniquely qualify me for this activity. It is just that I care enough about this issue; that I have had the perseverance to go through all the channels to make the trip possible, and that the Vietnamese are comfortable with dealing with me. It is not the person who takes the first step who is important, it is the fact that a first step is taken.

But, for me, the answer to the question, "Why?" is found on the most personal level. For I can well imagine what might have easily happened to me sometime during the year that I was there... at places like Tay Ninh, Cu Chi or across the Cambodian border. Because I can say fervently and passionately as I think about those 2500... "There, but for the grace of God, go I."

And, believing that, I ask the people and the media to join me in a continuing crusade to Bring a Hundred Americans Home from Vietnam and to do it before another 365 days have passed.

Thank you.

Reflections

Death finally opens its door

HEMET, CALIF. — The dark that we were so desperately trying to hold back, finally crept into the bedroom which looks out over the mountains, and lifted Glenn and carried him away.

But it wasn't dark. It only seemed to be dark when we were afraid of it. What actually surrounded Glenn those final moments of his life on earth, was a great light. It surrounded him and lifted up to the ceiling where it seemed to be hovering... waiting.

We sat by his bed, my sister, their son and his wife and me, waiting and fearing, yet somehow comforted by the brilliant light which surrounded him and seemed to touch each of us, as his breathing came ever slower — slower.

And then we all saw it, a mist rising from him and blending into the overall light around him, and my sister went over to him and leaned over him.

"Sweetheart," she whispered. "I'm here. Let your spirit go free. I love you... I will love you forever." And at her words, the mist burst into glory and joined eternally with the surrounding light, and my brother-in-law let out one long breath... a sigh... and he was gone.

We all went to him, our arms joining us together, tears rolling down our cheeks, and yet there was a sense of jubilation, of joy, of celebration, and I thought, "This is what it is all about. It is like birth. Birth into a new life... a new existence."

And I knew there should be no sorrow, no wanting him to come back to lie on his bed of weakness. He was free — and somewhere out there he was winging his way to a grand reunion with his parents, Friends who had gone on, and one little boy who had been so special to him, and whose presence seemed to linger around him for as long as Glenn lived.

Somewhere out there, there was the joy of reunion and if he looked back it was only in regret that he had to leave his loved ones behind for a brief time.

If ever I have doubted that the soul continues to live, to experience and rejoice in its freedom, that doubt fled when the darkness which we dreaded failed to come, and Glenn was borne away on wings of dazzling light.

CAROL PREMO, PhD

At the very least, the child could be awakened and terrified at discovering they are alone. This could have devastating emotional after effects.

Further, it is illegal in the State of Michigan for children to be left unattended at night.

Call your local juvenile authorities and report your neighbor if this practice continues. You may lose a friend but you may also save a young life.

Ask Carol Premo

Honesty the best policy?

DEAR CAROL,

Someone I know has asked me to be a reference for them for a new job. This would be extremely awkward, as I do not have the best opinion of this person's honesty, ability or usefulness.

They asked me because I have a position with a title that indicates responsibility.

I would not be able to give the glowing reference they most likely expect. In all honesty, I should tell the person I cannot be their reference, that would be difficult as it is my cousin.

Any suggestions you have in this situation would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
Potential Reference

Dear Potential,
I agree that you should in all honesty tell the person that you cannot be the reference. The individual obviously expects a positive reference or you would not have been asked.

However, you have an obligation to your employer if they are applying at your location or whatever and to all else concerned to be candid in your evaluations.

If you cannot be open and honest, by all means tell your cousin and let him seek a reference elsewhere.

Keep in mind that a reference is a presentation of facts as you see them and much of it is opinion. Don't let yourself be deluded into assuming that because your opinion has been asked, it is the only or the best opinion.

DEAR CAROL,

I have a friend who is doing what I consider to be a very dangerous thing. When she finds late at night she is out of cigarettes or milk or some such item, she quickly drives to a store about 5 minutes away from her house leaving her young children home alone.

I have suggested to her that this is a very dangerous practice. Her reply is that she comes right back, does not dawdle and nothing can happen in less than 10 minutes. I don't agree at all.

What can I do to convince her that her actions are dangerous, that the children might wake up and be frightened, a fire could start, anything.

Please advise me as what I should do, even if you say to mind my own business.

Neighbor

Dear Neighbor,

I will not tell you to mind your own business. Many innocent children have died because of such circumstances.

About grave markers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.)

Q — Does the VA provide a reimbursement for grave markers placed in private cemeteries?

A — The Veterans Administration pays a partial reimbursement for the cost incurred in acquiring a non-government headstone. This benefit is available for all deceased veterans who were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable. Effective Oct. 1, 1980, the maximum amount payable is $59.00.

Q — Is there a minimum disability rating a veteran must have in order to be eligible to receive VA vocational rehabilitation assistance?

A — A veteran must have a service connected disability of at least ten percent for basic eligibility. Other requirements are a discharge or release under other than dishonorable conditions and a need for vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of the disability.

Governor picks Romulus man for Commission

Gov. William G. Milliken announced this week the appointment of a local resident to the Commission on Indian Affairs.

William D. Memberto, 35475 Smith, Romulus, executive director of the Michigan Urban Indian Health Council Inc., was appointed to succeed Wade I. Teeple of Brimley.

He will serve the remainder of a term

Brown to cheer for EMU

Michelle Brown, 18-year-old senior at Huron High School, New Boston, recently won a spot on the Eastern Michigan University Varsity Cheerleading Squad for the 1981-82 Huron football season.

Michelle is the daughter of Donald and Eugene Brown of 19725 Somers Street. She has been on the Varsity Cheerleading squad at Huron High for the past two years but has been involved in the activity four years in total.

She participated at cheerleader clinics on March 18th and 19th at the university and won at the tryouts held at McKinney Union on March 25.

Sixteen cheerleaders competed for the position and she later received notification that she would again become a Huron Cheerleader, trading red and white for green and white.

IMMEDIATE DENTURES

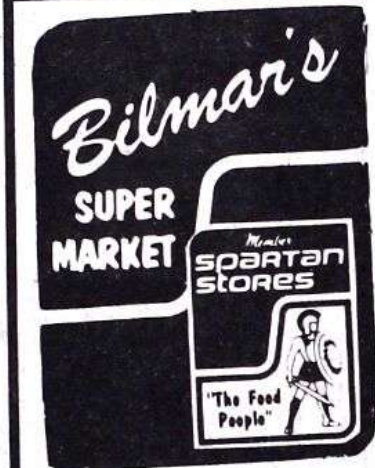

One of the cosmetic miracles of modern dentistry is the "immediate denture". These are constructed BEFORE all remaining natural teeth are removed and inserted as soon as the final teeth are extracted. Naturally, they will need some adjustments as your swollen gums recede back to normal, but it's a darn sight better than facing the public with no teeth while your dentures are being constructed in the laboratory.

which may have remained) are extracted and your "immediate dentures" are inserted at the same appointment.

Healing beneath the immediate denture is usually uneventful. One might expect pain to result from wearing a denture over an area from which teeth have been extracted, but just the opposite occurs. The immediate denture acts as a protective covering for the jaw as it is healing.

In this procedure, the back teeth are removed but the front teeth are allowed to remain. When the gums are healed, impressions are taken with the front teeth still in place and dentures are prepared. When the day of reckoning arrives, the front teeth (and perhaps a few others

Evangelist returns home

'New' Ernie Mindel hits gospel charts

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Playtime Coordinator

Some of Ernie Mindel's buddies from Westland don't recognize him these days. They remember the Ernie Mindel who travelled the Country-Western bar circuit in the 60s as a rhythm guitarist and lead singer. And the Ernie Mindel who graduate from Romulus High, then played softball for the Daly Drive-In team, worked as a mailman in Wayne and lived on Palmer Road in Westland.

Oh yes, they also recall Ernie Mindel as a fun loving guy who wouldn't let his conscience stand in the way of a good time.

"I was the black sheep of the family," admits Mindel, now a Petoskey resident. "I was a taker not a giver—I wasn't a Christian. The old Ernie Mindel died seven years ago."

The new Ernie Mindel is an evangelist who spends much of his time on the road visiting churches of every denomination and speaking at prisons, colleges and businessmen associations throughout the Midwest. His topic? The way Jesus Christ can change a person's life.

It's a subject the 43-year-old songwriter has devoted much of his time to since "finding Jesus" in 1974. Mindel has composed nearly 140 songs and released two gospel albums. His latest, "In My Home," has hit number one on the gospel charts in Birmingham, Alabama while the single "Until Jesus" has climbed to number two on the Christian Broadcasting Network in Michigan with air play on several Country stations.

Despite a mild case of laryngitis, Mindel performed his songs at the Westland Methodist Church and other area churches last week after a tour of Arizona. From here it's off to Charlotte, North Carolina and later trips to Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota. Sandwiched in between his gospel music ministry will be negotiations for a songwriting contract with a Nashville, Tennessee firm.

"Sixty percent of the time I'm away from home," he admits, "but I love it. I make it a point not to be away from home more than 10 days at a time. And a lot of the time my family goes with me." Mindel and his wife, Joyce, are the parents of four children.

"We're being invited to more and more places," adds the baritone singer, who began his musical career in the Country-Western and rock and roll fields. "More people are searching today for answers than ever before. The hell of the 60s was followed by the question mark of the 70s and the double question mark of the 80s.

"We must stop and listen to God because He is the answer."

Mindel's upcoming endeavors include the recording of another tune, "Ain't Giving Up," on the Jedsem label. The baritone performer also hopes to enter the Country music market to attract a bigger audience for his Christian message.

And for those old acquaintances skeptical of Mindel's changed outlook, they only have to take a look at some of the lyrics from his favorite work to date as a composer. "Jesus Put a Song in My Heart": "I wandered around defeated/I couldn't love and I couldn't live/Worldly positions I wanted to take/But I never wanted to give/Then my life took a new direction/And the old ways had to part/And things look so much different to me/Since Jesus put a song in my heart."

What's That Sound?

By STEVE O'LEARY

Album for a cause

CONCERTS FOR THE PEOPLE OF KAMPUCHEA (Atlantic)

When I first read the list of artists appearing on this double-LP — The Clash, Elvis Costello & The Attractions, Pretenders, Ian Dury & The Blockheads, Rockpile, Queen, Paul McCartney & Wings, Rockestra, the Specials, and The Who — I had only one fear. But it proved to be groundless, since Queen only has one cut on the album.

It's really hard to find faults with this album, as it has just about everything going in its favor: top artists, good songs, extremely good production, a minimum of Queen... and to top it off, it's for a good cause. Kampuchea (Cambodia) is in a state called by the United Nations as one of "national tragedy, the proportions of which may have no parallel in history."

The concerts documented here, which took place in London just over a year ago, raised some money, but the bulk of the contributions will come from sales of this record, as well as from the forthcoming film of the event. And if one thinks about how Cambodia came to be such a place of horror — well, maybe if everyone in the United States buys the album...

Side one is chocked full of live Who, and it leaves no doubt as to the band's staying power. One can almost picture Pete Townshend leaping off of his power chords in "Baba O'Riley" (no relation).

Daltry swinging his microphone out over the crowd, only to snap it back right into the palm of his hand just in time for the next verse. You can almost see Kenney Jones trying his best to replace the late Keith Moon — and doing an admirable job of it. And in the same way you can visualize John Entwistle, well, just standing there.

That's pretty much the way they've always been in concert, and the way they'll more than likely remain until Townshend hangs up his rock 'n' roll shoes. "Sister Disco" sounds better here than it did on the "Who Are You" album, and "Behind Blue Eyes" and "See Me, Feel Me" are still as awe inspiring as ever, leaving no doubt as to why the Who remain one of the great live bands.

Side two leads off with three cuts from Chrissie Hynde & the Pretenders, and three of their best: "The Wait," "Tattooed Love Boys," and a delightfully ragged version of what may be their best song, "Precious." Elvis Costello follows, pumping out "The Imposter." Next up is Rockpile, and they roar through Graham Parker's "Crawling Through the Wreckage" before calling on Led Zep's crooner, Robert Plant, to carry the tune on the oldie "Little Sister."

The second LP's first side is a collage of musical types, ranging from Queen's (remember them?) mushy metal to The Clash's reggae, and from Ian Dury & The Blockheads delightful disco-for-people-who-don't-want-to-like-disco, to The Specials rousing ska. While all of it is good, it still appears that side three is where they stuck everything that didn't fit elsewhere.

Side four opens with three songs from Paul McCartney & Wings: "Got To Get You Into My Life," "Every Night," an often over-looked gem from his first solo album, and his latest big hit, "Coming Up." And in case you wondered who or what the Rockestra is, it's this: the greatest superstar jam ever, with three Led Zeppelins, two Whos, two Rockpiles, Gary Brooker, Ronnie Lane, an Attraction, a Pretender, and a host of other less well-knowns, turning the stage into just what the name implies, a rock orchestra. It was an adventurous act, and it worked.

It's a musical event on vinyl made to be cherished (not to mention played), and it's even for a good cause. What else could you ask for? I know, I know...NO Queen cuts, but I guess you can't have everything.

Ernie Mindel has a song in his heart.

Albert Brooks is always on screen.

'Modern Romance' refreshing

By J.T. YURKO
Special to Playtime

'Modern Romance' from Columbia Pictures. Directed by Albert Brooks. Written By Albert Brooks and Monica Johnson. Starring Albert Brooks, Kathryn Harrold. Rated 'R'.

For a time while watching this film there is a question as to whether or not this will be a one-man show.

After the opening scene in which Albert Brooks breaks up with his girlfriend and then visits a friend of his at work, there is an extended scene of what amounts to a running monologue which might be entitled "The Lamentations of a Neurotic Lover."

In fact, Brooks is on screen in just about every single scene in the film. (And they called Michael Cinino self-indulgent.)

As the film is entitled "Modern Romance," however, the girl Brooks is crazily courting is played by Kathryn Harrold, someone who eminently deserves to be romanced. Together they make a very different yet highly recognizable couple trying to fall in love in the Eighties.

What Woody Allen does for neurotic romance on the East Coast, Albert Brooks does for love on the West Coast. When Allen would break up with Annie Hall he might take in a few concerts or go to a museum or simply relax and read the Sunday New York Times.

But Brooks, out in trendy southern California, seeks solace in Pacific chic, and spends hundreds of dollars on a complete jogging ensemble. When he walks into a health food store and tells the man behind the counter he just broke up with his girl, the vitamin salesman doesn't hesitate a moment and responds, "O.K., you need A, E, plenty of C and a lot of zinc."

Woody Allen would never dare go near drugs or an automobile, but Brooks drowns his sorrows on one and in the other.

There are similarities between the two as well, as both filmmakers are

Pinochle results given

A double pinochle helped John Benner register 914 points en route to a first place showing recently in Westland's Pinochle Club, sponsored by the city's Department on Aging.

Dewey Gentry, who also posted a double pinochle, scored 867 for second place followed by Gerry Lowers (857), Bob Lowers (848), Olive Schroeder (834), Helen Lowers (805) and Angela Ret (469). Ted Brown, Neval Blanchard and Dorothy Birely recorded round houses during the competition.

In play the previous week, Dalphine DePetro placed first ahead of Eleanor Bell and Eva Van Goeye. Other top finishers included Katherine Dunlap, Donald McCuean, Eleanor Pitt and Lucille Goetz.

Elizabeth Egan, Ruth Knoch, Audra Richardson, Louise Bolla and Marion Faulkner recorded double pinochles.

The Pinochle Club meets at 7 p.m. each Thursday at the Senior Friendship Center, 37095 Marquette in Westland and is open to the public. Coffee and tea are served during the evening's activities. Further information on the Pinochle Club can be obtained by calling 722-7628 or 261-7030.

Don McLean to appear at Canton's Center Stage

Don McLean, who hit the top of the charts in 1971 with "American Pie," an eight-minute long single that has become a national institution of sorts, will be appearing at Canton's Center Stage Tuesday, April 14.

His latest single, a remake of Roy Orbison's "Crying," is headed for the top of the charts with the album from which it was taken, "Chain Lightning," not far behind.

Besides six of his own compositions, "Chain Lightning" features songs by Hank Williams, Buddy Holly, Gene Vincent, Roy Orbison, and The Skyliners. "The thing that unifies it all is that it's all American music," says McLean. "My whole style is rooted in American music, from guys like Hank Williams and Bob Willis to Sinatra and Bing Crosby."

McLean will no doubt perform "American Pie" at the show, and no doubt it will garnish the biggest applause of the night. But, those who give the new material a chance will find it a delightfully diverse bunch of songs, all handled masterfully by Don McLean.

Machinery exhibit featured

Machinery and mass production and how they changed the American home are featured in "Mass Produced Elegance," an exhibition opening Saturday at Henry Ford Museum and continuing through November 1.

Machine carved chairs owned by Abraham Lincoln, a table and an animal horn chair that introduced the "rustic" into the fashionable home, sewing machines that revolutionized the making of clothes and Thomas Edison's phonograph which brought the voices of famous entertainers into many middle-class parlors are among the exhibit's 350 fascinating furnishings and gadgets.

PAT MCCLELLAND

All-American, two-time state gold medalist lead All-Area

When the area high school swimming & diving coaches convened last week to select the 1981 selections they had for the first time in nearly two decades the enviable choice of drafting an All-American and a two gold medal winner at the state meet.

From the fruitful harvest of Associated Newspapers' area talent, coaches nominated Belleville senior diver, Pat McClelland, and Cherry Hill's superb senior, Curt McNamara. McClelland is an All-American nominee on the boards, while McNamara helped the Spartans finish fifth in the state after picking up two gold medals.

"The ANP club is an exceptional one in that so many of these swimmers will probably wind up on some college roster," said Wayne Beerbower, Cherry Hill head coach, who also was named as the ANP's 1981 "Coach of the Year".

From Belleville, the list of All-Area swimmers also include: Mark Schofield, who holds three Tiger records, Phil Smelt, Jim Ryznar, Jeff Sterling, John Bond, Doug Rakotz, and Dave Dubisky. From Wayne, nominated for coveted honors are Kevin Egan, Eric Head, Brian Sleicher, Randy Ferguson and Scotty Martin.

Greg Dawkins, who was the impetus behind Westland John Glenn's success, is one of five Westlanders nominated. The others include Doug White, Jerry

All-Stars and kickboxers

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

When the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association stages its inaugural East-West All-Star game there will be at least two preps from this area on the roster.

The two — Wayne Memorial's 6-2, 200-pound senior running back Rick Rogers, and Westland John Glenn's 6-3, 215 pound linemen, Dale Boone, will be members of the East All-Stars' offensive unit.

"It's really a honor to be chosen to play in this, what is our first post-season high school football All-Star game," said Chuck Gordon, Westland John Glenn Coach. "When you consider all of the fine and excellent talent in this state and your name is selected by the MHSFCA, you're in excellent company."

The game will be played at 1:30 p.m., August 8 at Spartan Stadium in East Lansing and, although most of the players have signed their letters of intent, you can bet that there will be a score of college and pro scouts on hand to watch the action.

Rogers, of course, set all kinds of records as he led Coach Floyd Carter's Zebras to a near perfect season. Rick will be attending the University of Michigan on a full-ride athletic scholarship.

Boone and Rogers will join players such as Detroit Central's Steve Jones, Boomfield Hills Andover's Steve Mazure, Detroit LaSalle's Steve Phillips and blue chip quarterbacks Lamar Tidwell of Ecorse and Steve Coulter of Sterling Heights Stevenson, to name a few to take on a talent-loaded West All-Star line-up.

The West will field players from the Ypsilanti, Traverse City, Ann Arbor, North Muskegon, and the Jackson areas.

According to the MHSFCA, the 36-players on the East squad will be coached by Al Fracassa, Ron Holland, John Herrington and Dave Snead. Their counterparts in the West are Jeff Smith, Tom Fagen, Ike Muhlenkamp and Pete Schmidt. Fracassa, Holland, Smith and Fagen will also bring one of their assistant coaches to round out the coaching.

Of the players honored to play in this inaugural game, all will graduate from their respective high schools in June. And most will be heading to display their talents on college campuses across the country this fall.

The proceeds from the game will be donated to the MHSFCA scholarship fund.

And where can we pick up tickets? Don't know — they haven't been printed as yet.

As in all sports, kickboxing demands a lot of training and discipline. Roger Hurd, the light heavyweight champion of Michigan should know. He's been in the sport for over a decade and has the scars to prove it.

Hurd is down right mad at fly-by-night kickboxing promoters who are putting boxing cards together at bars and lounges in the area without any regards to the contestant's personal safety or health.

"Hell, all these guys have to do to fight is sign a waiver and these promoters let them go at it," Hurd continued. "I watched while one of the fighters almost killed himself. The promoters continued to urge the fighter on 'just one more round' when it was obvious the boxer had had it."

Why are they doing it?

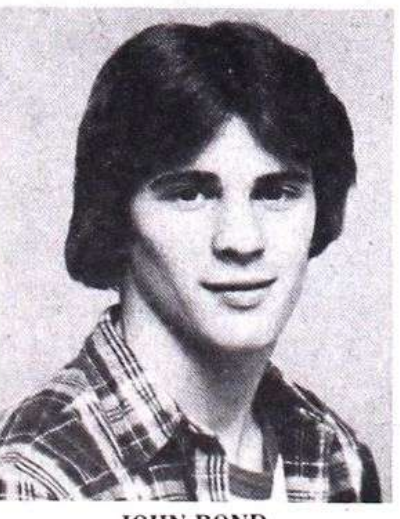

"For the buck, that's why," Hurd said. "It's ridiculous. I know. I broke a nose and a lot of ribs during my time, and I keep in shape. Here are these guys who don't even know what a ring looks like getting into these fights. Someone is going to get killed before Michigan does something about regulating this kind of activity."

By the way, you can catch Hurd and the top amateur fighters in a sanctioned kickboxing match at 6 p.m., Sunday, April 12 at the Metropolitan Airport Hilton Inn. Hurd is paired against Neil Singleton in a 5-round professional exhibition match.

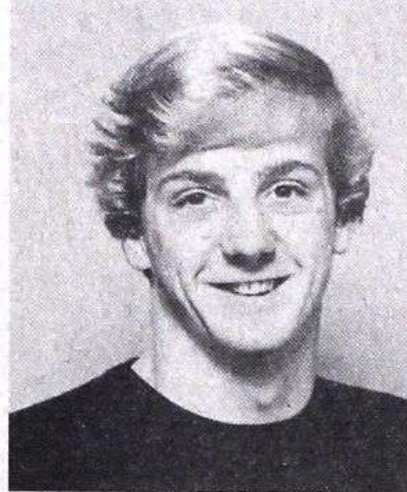

Also appearing on the card are Wayne and area residents Mark Gavin, Jammie Hicks, Robert Gainer, Brian Brown, Mark Grow, Roger Breeding, Chuck Butler and Ed Groves.

They're the champs

A 4-1 decision over runners-up Jake's Lounge was Taster Freeze's crowning victory in the Wayne-Westland Over 30 Hockey League playoffs last week. The championship line-up included: Conrad Madaleno (first row, from left), Tom DiLaura, Jim Gibson, Ernie Kelm and

Taster Freeze is crowned Over 30 hockey champions

It was an easy one to win, and a tough one to lose. But, Taster Freeze had it all together when it skated up against arch-rival, Jake's Lounge, and coasted to a 4-1 victory to capture the 1980-81 hockey championship in the Wayne-Westland Over 30 League.

Taster Freeze struck early as Al Pulk, assisted by Conrad Madaleno and Dave Frankling, fired in the first puck of the game to give the champs the lead which they didn't relinquish the rest of the way.

Late in the same period, Guy Moise netted the puck, assisted by Paul Cramer and Tom DiLaura, increasing the margin to 2-0.

Jake's got on the scoreboard and back into the game midway in the second period with Dave Milan accounting for the goal. That was to be the loser's only tally of the evening.

The Freezers came right back in the third period with Joe Soukup scoring while Frankling picked up his second assist of the game, to make the score 3-1. Frankling capped off the victory with a goal scored with less than five minutes in the contest.

Pulk and Soukup picked up the assists on Frankling's goal.

Taster Freeze won three games in earlier playoff competition, skating past Futurama 9-5, Benny's Pizzeria 2-1 and Little Bill's Trophies 5-4, prior to the showdown against Jake's Lounge.

Meanwhile, Jake's Lounge eliminated Brock Builders & the Jock Shop, drawing a Bye in round three before playing taster freeze.

Frankling led the scoring in playoff action with nine goals and four assists while John Ruggiero of Jake's and Tim Vanderburgh of Benny's Pizzeria Finished with a 2.5 average in the nets.

Second best in over 30

After three consecutive playoff victories, Jake's Lounge met nemesis Taster Freeze for the championship and lost a 4-1 decision and the Wayne-Westland Over 30 League Hockey crown. The playoff runners-up included: Mike Beals (seated, from left), Jake Davidson, John

McGue, Dave Wilcox and Jerry Dziubek.

From Cherry Hill's undefeated Tri-River Conference line-up, the ANP coaches have also picked up Kevin Reside, John Teschke and Martin Powers. Plymouth Salem is represented on the team by its 200-yard medley team which included Gary Workman, Bruce Harwood, Jeff Kleinsmith and Paul Penkowski. Also named were Tim Harwood, Russ Shafer, Joe Rudelic and John Thompson.

McNamara is considered one of, if not the, finest swimmers to ever swim for the Spartans. A three-year letterwinner, Curt was the recipient of the 1979 Coaches' Award and was the school's MVP swimmer in both the 1980 and 1981 seasons. He also earned the distinction of "Swimmer of the Year in Class B for 1981" after winning the two gold medals at state.

"When you have swimmers like Curt on your team," said Coach Beerbower, "your job is made easier."

McNamara won the 200 individual medley in 2:00.2 and the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:03.1 at state. He also swam on the 200-yard medley relay which finished 10th at state. The two winning times at state are obviously school records.

McClelland follows in the footsteps of a score of excellent Belleville High School divers who have distinguished themselves in the area, state, and nationally. Pat won the Western Wayne diving championship with a record setting 400-plus points and went on to finish in the top 10 in the state.

McClelland's performances merited All-American recognition.

Perfect cage season

They stand proud and tall these Metro Blue Print cagers who claimed the Westland Parks and Recreation Department's 12 & 13 year old league championship. Coach Ray Nalepka's line-up in-

Reasons to smile

Undeclared in the Westland Parks and Recreation Junior Girls Basketball League, the Junior Hornets captured the league and playoff crowns this season. That's plenty of reason to smile, but the gal cagers also came through with an untarnished 11-0 over-all record. The team is made up of Karen Schoenin-

mer coach, Beerbower guided his Spartans to a near perfect 11-1 over-all record and to an undefeated Tri-River Conference season.

For his accomplishments, the Associated Newspapers is honored to name Beerbower as the ANP's "Swim Coach of the Year".

A 1973 graduate of Cherry Hill where he was an outstanding swimmer who earned All-Area recognition, Beerbower went on to Eastern Michigan University where he also lettered in swimming. His specialty was the butterfly.

When Wayne's ex-coach, Jerry Palowski retired three years ago, it was natural for Beerbower to step in and take command. Beerbower extended the Spartans' domination in the league by adding three more championship years to the four Palowski had won.

This year Beerbower's Spartans finished fifth in the state in Class B competition. The team also produced a state champ in Curt McNamara who captured the gold in both the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard breaststroke.

"I feel we have as good a program at our school as in any in the area," Beerbower said, "and that's because we have a heck of a lot of excellent kids who are willing to sacrifice and put in the hours. Also, the coaching has to be there. My assistant (Debbie Karabees) does one heck of a job."

A police officer with the Farmington Hills Department, Beerbower is an Inkster resident who lives near the high school.

"It seems I'm in the pool more than I'm out of it."

And that's why, coach, you and your team are champs.

Tryout set for All-Star team

Preps needed for international cage game

Dr. Marvin Gans, Athletic Director at Schoolcraft College and General Chairperson of the International Basketball Classic Games Committee has announced that the Fourth Annual Classic will be held on May 30-31 with games both days at the Schoolcraft College Physical Education Building.

Opponents will be a Michigan Amateur Athletic Union Junior Men's Team versus the Quebec Provincial Junior Men's Team from Canada. The events will be sanctioned by the A.A.U. and the American Basketball Association (ABA).

For the first time in the classic's history, there will be open tryouts for the Michigan team. These will be held on April 10-11-12 at Schoolcraft. Young men trying out for the team must be currently enrolled in the twelfth grade and have participated in varsity basketball for their respective high schools in the 1980-81 season. They also must not be participating in high school sports this spring.

The selection committee includes such notables as Dave Bing, Jim Spadafore, Mick McCabe, Bob Page and Charlie Neal who will be responsible for helping to determine the Michigan players during that weekend. They will also assist the Games Committee in making the final decision about who plays against the Canadians in the finals and in the preliminary games. In total, 36 spots will be filled for the event.

Following the International Classic in May, the Michigan A.A.U. Junior Men's Team will participate in the Ninth Annual National A.A.U. Junior Men's Basketball Tournament to be held in Jacksonville, Florida on June 24-27. The composition of the Florida-bound team will take place after reviewing and evaluating the 36 Michigan athletes in the Classic.

Daily tickets for Classic games will be priced in advance at $4 for adults and $2 for students (18 and under). The cost will be $5 and $3 respectively at the door. Students will be required to show identification to qualify for the special rate at the door. Tickets can be purchased in advance at all Hudson's stores and at the Schoolcraft College Bookstore.

Game times for Saturday, May 30 will be 5:30 p.m. for the preliminary game and 8:00 p.m. for the main game. Sunday game times are 1:00 p.m. for the preliminary game and 3:00 p.m. for the Canada vs. Michigan game. A special one dollar family price for children under fourteen will be in effect when accompanied by an adult ticket on Sunday.

In addition, 500 tickets for each day will be set aside for school-aged children in groups of twenty or more at $1-ticket with adult supervision and adult ticket purchased. These tickets are only available at the Schoolcraft Physical Education Office. For further information, call 591-6400 ext. 480 or 481.

Wayne thinclads rush into season with 2 easy victories

Wayne Memorial served notice that it will be a power to contend with in track this season as Coach Ernie Righetti's Zebras rolled past Cherry Hill, 82-46, and crushed John Glenn and Garden City West in a triangular meet earlier.

"We have talent that needs to be developed," said Righetti who was pleased with his team's initial performances. "Obviously, it is too early in the season to know just where this team is going."

"However, off of the first meets we showed that we can get the job done," Righetti added.

Meet results: Wayne Memorial 92, Westland John Glenn 48½, Garden City West 26½

Eagles hold organizational meetings

The New Aerie and Auxiliary of the fraternal Order of Eagles are looking for new members to join them in their activities. The Eagles are known for their charity and community work. Their four main charities they support are: the Max Baer Heart Fund, the Art Ehrman Cancer Fund, the Jimmy Durante Childrens Fund and the Golden Eagle Fund, which is for Senior Citizens. The Eagles are known as "People Helping People".

On Sunday April 12, th Eagles will hold a meeting at the Van Buren Township

Fire Hall, which is located on Ecorse Road just west of Belleville Road. The meeting starts at 2 p.m. and will be followed by a Pot Luck Dinner. If you would like to join the group and learn more about the Eagles and participate in the Pot Luck Dinner contact Les and Ruby Cooper, the Organizers, at 728-0022 so they can make sure there is plenty for everyone.

The next meeting, following April 12, will be on Sunday, April 26 also at the Van Buren Township Fire Hall.

Bethany Church stages 'Hosanna'

Bethany Baptist Church of Belleville will present a new Eastern composition by Joe E. Parks entitled "Hosanna" on Sunday evening April 12 at 7 p.m.

The cantata will be performed by a combination of elementary children, teen-agers and the 25 voice adult choir. Featured soloists will be Paul and Bonnie White, Rochelle Brooks, Kathy Baldwin, Therese Carnahan, Kim Fields and Andrea Losen. Ruth Bleeker and Fred Baditai will do the narration, with Doyle M. Wise directing the entire production. The choirs will be accompanied by a fully orchestrated tape background.

Bethany Baptist Church is located at 810 E. Huron River Drive in Belleville.

Pastor John Losen and people extend the public a cordial invitation.

I LOST 81 POUNDS THE HOLISTIC WAY!

It was the easiest way to lose weight that I ever tried!

T.D. Wyandotte

CAN YOU LOSE 31-lbs. IN 24 DAYS?

CAROL

Diets don't work! Diets don't last! I've tried 40 or 50 different Diets with no success. The Holistic Center helped me lose 31 pounds my first 24 days! I'm no longer craving the wrong foods. If you want to lose weight "FAST" there is only one way to do it . . . The Holistic Center.

Carol C.

TAYLOR, MICH.

CAN YOU LOSE 29-lbs. IN 3 WEEKS?

JIM JOHNSON

I still can't really believe it! I've tried all the fad diets and nothing seemed to work. I thought I always had to be heavy, but you really changed my lifestyle. I lost 29 pounds in just 3 short weeks and feel terrific. Thank you, Holistic, you are the best!

James Johnson

LAWNS-N-SUCH WESTLAND, MICH.

CAN YOU STOP SMOKING IN 2 HOURS?

KENNETH SMITH

"Just two short hours is all it took . . ." I smoked up to two packs of cigarettes a day for 15 years. The morning cough my wife noticed is now gone and I feel just terrific. I highly recommend the Holistic Center to anyone who wants to stop smoking. Thank you, Holistic.

Kenneth Smith

TRENTON

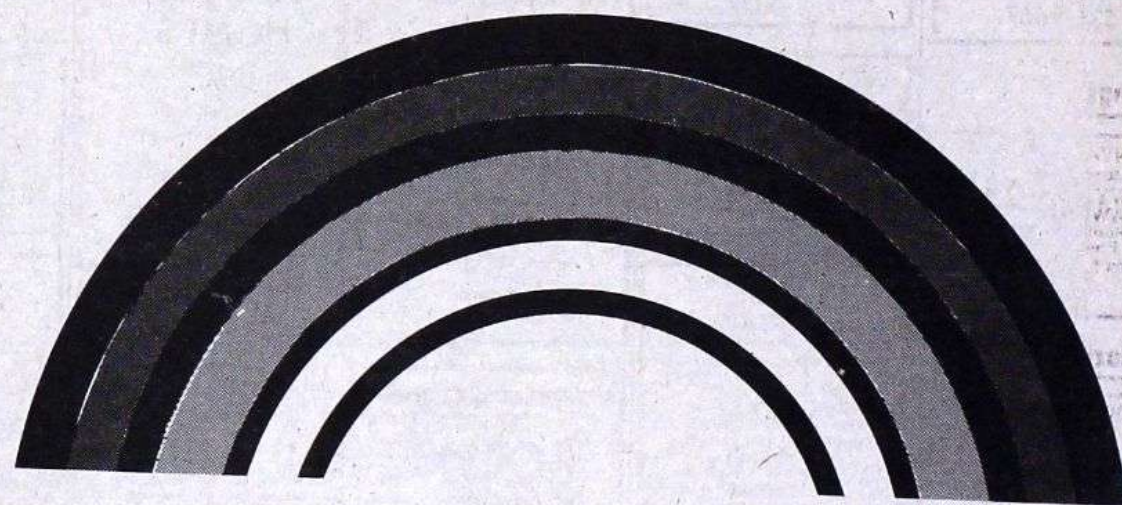

MONA DONAHUE

I did it! I stopped! After 14 years of smoking up to 4 packs a day I stopped. I still can't believe it. Two hours at the Holistic Center is all it took. I had forgotten what it's like to feel terrific and have extra energy. If you want to stop smoking, there is really only one way to quit, the Holistic Center!

'With this ring' ... a tradition

One of the most enduring and beautiful traditions associated with engagement and marriage is the giving of a ring. Today, most brides receive two rings from their fiances—one at the time of the betrothal and one at the wedding ceremony itself.

It seems likely that the betrothal ring originated as a replacement for dowry money—naturally enough, considering the ancient Roman custom of giving a ring to seal an agreement.

While this act was binding in most cultures, the Vikings gave rings not to ratify the bargain, but to commemorate it, much as we do today.

Of course, fashions in engagement rings change with the times—their form is as dependent upon current tastes and values as their meaning is immutable and unchanging.

The diamond engagement ring, today's darling, has been around for a quite along time. It goes back, in fact, to the 15th century, when the Archduke Maximilian of Austria presented his betrothed, Mary of Burgundy, with a golden ring decorated with a diamond-studded M, his initial, on top. Interestingly enough, prior to that time, the diamond was a gem worn by men, not women.

One type of betrothal ring, which originated in France, was called a Regard ring. Its name stems from the fact that in it were set several gems—Ruby, Emerald, Garnet, Amethyst, Ruby, Diamond—the first letters of whose names formed an acrostic of the word "regard." In the same tradition, sometimes the initials of the names of the stones spelled out the name of the bride-to-be.

Another distinctive betrothal ring is the gemel or gimmel ring, which Martin Luther is commonly considered to have introduced, four centuries ago.

The gemel ring was a double or triple ring. When closed, two bands of the double ring would appear to be one—a most apt metaphor for the oneness of man and wife.

It was traditional to separate the intertwined rings at the time of the betrothal, which was solemnized over a Bible with a witness present.

In the case of the triple gemel ring, the man and woman being betrothed would separate the upper and lower rings from the middle one, which the witness would take. At the time of the wedding, the three portions of the ring would be reunited. The ring would then be used for the wedding ceremony, and worn afterwards by the bride.

Which brings us to the wedding ring itself. This band represented the essential unity of the married couple—a meaning which was perfectly symbolized by its circular form.

Though silver rings were most common prior to the 19th century, gold, the purest metal, predominates today.

Wedding rings are customarily worn on the fourth finger of the left hand—this, because the ancients believe that there was a vein which ran to this finger directly from the heart, the seat of feeling in the human body.

According to "With this Ring," by Elizabeth Laverack (Elm Tree Books), a fascinating compilation of information on the history of many aspects of marriage, it is generally accepted that the wedding ring originated in the ancient Egyptian custom of placing a piece of ring-money (in use prior to the introduction of coins) on the bride's finger as an indication that her newly-wedded husband was endowing her with his wealth.

In a parallel fashion, the ancient Romans gave their brides key-rings. The presentation of a key-ring would occur after the man had lifted his bride over the threshold of her new home, and was symbolic of the trust her husband placed in her, and of the fact that she would share his worldly possessions from that time on.

The Anglo-Saxons favored golden rings which were worn upon the third finger; in Medieval times, a saint might be repre-

Wedding and betrothal rings over the ages have followed the dictates of fashion and fancy. The German gemel ring, left, from the 16th century, is composed of two separate rings that look like one when they're unified, the perfect symbol of the essential oneness of man and wife. It boasts the inscription in Latin, "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder." The English wedding ring, right, which dates from the 15th century, boasts clasped hands and a heart motif, and is inscribed with the motto, "God Helps."

A little ingenuity aids newlyweds on a tight budget

Are you dreaming of that first home together — beautifully furnished, of course — but brought back to earth when you figure out your bank balance?

Many young couples will find themselves in this predicament, because of inflation. But, thanks to those wedding gifts and a few hand-me-downs from Aunt Flo or Cousin Jack, you'll manage to set up house-keeping, after a fashion.

Here's where a little ingenuity can come to the aid of newlyweds on a budget. Can't afford an expensive wall unit? Create your own with particle board cubes, sprayed to suit your decor.

Long for an antique rocker? An unfinished rocker, stained and enhanced with decals will do nicely until the real thing comes along.

No room in the budget for expensive drapes? Choose an interesting (and inexpensive) fabric to hem, sew to rings and hang along a curtain rod.

You can have an outstanding coffee table without breaking the bank — just place a round piece of glass on top of a sturdy base. The more interesting or unconventional the base, the better!

Need a side table... or a work area? Nothing could be simpler — just take a hollow core door, sawhorse brackets, some 2x4s from your local do-it-yourself store and put together a sturdy, versatile sawhorse table.

You can create a cozy reading corner with any old, round table... just cover it with the prettiest fabric you can find (hem it to look like a tablecloth), set some photographs, along with an antique-looking lamp on top, and you've got a bit of nostalgia.

Here's how to enjoy an attractive area rug without denting the budget: select a nice remnant, then fringe it! Another easy way to make an area rug is to set carpet tiles on a sturdy fabric such as artists' canvas.

A visit to your local do-it-yourself emporium and a treasure hunt through a few second-hand stores can help you fill in the gaps and complete that snug little nest for two.

Groom is nervous too on big day

There is usually one person whose nerves are just a bit more jumpy than those of the bride; the groom. The jitters affect him, too, as the big day approaches.

Fortunately, the groom's wedding attendants—the best man and the ushers—are on hand to help take the edge off his pre-nuptial nervousness.

The bachelor's party is traditionally the time set aside for the groom and his closest friends to sit back and take a deep breath before the ceremony. It should be held a few days before the wedding so as to avoid the possibility of hangovers on the morning of the big event.

It is most often the best man who arranges the bachelor's party, although the groom himself can make the arrangements. Any close male friends—married or unmarried—should be invited to join in the fun.

The night of the bachelor's party is an appropriate time for the groom to distribute his gifts to the ushers and best man. And, once that first bottle of champagne is uncorked, the groom should toast the bride to start off the evening's revelry.

The best man should be on hand early enough on the wedding day to help the groom dress for the ceremony and pack for the honeymoon. He should also take charge of such essentials as the wedding ring and marriage license, which it will be his responsibility to produce later that day.

The best man also takes charge of the ushers, making sure that they understand their duties. The ushers should arrive at the church one hour before the ceremony.

As each female guest arrives, an usher offers her his right arm and escorts her to a seat on either the bride's (left) or groom's (right) side of the church.

The head usher escorts first the groom's mother, then the bride's mother, to the front right and left pews, respectively. Two ushers then roll down the white aisle carpet, and the ceremony is about to begin.

An ideal gift

Easy-to-make clutch bag is an ideal gift for your bridesmaids. Or, consider one for yourself to take along on your honeymoon. The best part is that you can make them from quilted placemats! Yes, quilted placemats and a sewing machine are all you need to create a vest, jacket, slippers, tote and many other things. Best of all, half the work is already done for you because of the pre-finished edges of the mats. "The Placemats Plus" craft book provides step-by-step instructions on sewing with mats. For a copy, send a $1.00 check or money order to Placemats Plus, JCPenney Company, Inc., Dept. M., 1301 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10019. JCPenney stores and their catalog have a large assortment of quilted placemats, both in solids and prints.

Bride's family pays most bills

Woe to the father of six daughters when it comes time to marry them off! For, it is traditionally the bride's family who foots the bill for the bulk of the wedding expenses.

Although it is not unusual for the groom's family to share in the cost of the reception, it is most often assumed that the bride's family is responsible for the cost of the wedding ceremony and trimmings.

As pointed out in "Bride's" magazine, wedding costs are customarily divided as follows.

The bride or her family usually pays for:

- Invitations, announcements and enclosure cards;

- Bride's wedding dress, veil and trousseau;
- Bouquets for wedding party;
- Flowers for church and reception;
- Engagement and wedding photographs;
- Fees for church, sexton, organist;
- Transportation of bridal party to church and reception;
- Entire reception, including food, beverages, music, decorations and professional services;
- Groom's wedding ring and wedding gift;
- Gifts for bride's attendants;

• Hotel accommodations for bridesmaids from out of town.

The groom or his family usually pays for:

- Bride's engagement and wedding rings;
- Marriage license;
- Clergy member's or ceremony official's fee;
- Bride's bouquet;
- Boutonnieres for men of wedding party;
- Flowers for mothers and grandmothers;
- Bride's wedding gift;
- Gifts for the best man and ushers;
- Hotel accommodations for ushers from out of town;
- Complete wedding trip.

Looking good is important

Every bride wants to look just right on her wedding day. She wants to create an everlasting impression on her groom, one which he will remember throughout his lifetime.

This means she wants to look her most beautiful: clear, glowing skin; a perfect coiffure; well-manicured nails.

Preparations for looking your prettiest should begin long before your wedding day—in fact, give yourself a month or more to pull yourself together.

- A well-balanced diet should be an integral part of your daily routine, wedding or no wedding. But, it is particularly important to eat properly during those frenzied weeks before the wedding. Your skin, hair and nails will benefit, and your stamina to endure the pressures every bride faces will be greater.

- An exercise routine should be part of your beauty regimen. Exercise keeps your body well-toned, and encourages a more healthy physiology in general.

- Adequate rest is a must—no bride should look as though she's been through the wringer on her wedding day. Be sure to get at least eight hours of sleep every night, starting at least one month before the big day.

- Decide on your hairstyle weeks before the wedding, so that your veil will be suitable to whatever style you choose. If you plan to have a haircut, or even just a trim, have it done two weeks prior to the wedding so that your hair has time to adjust to the new cut.

- Condition your hair so that it is soft and shining. Clean, healthy hair is a must—whether it's covered by your veil, or full and loose with a flower tucked on the side.

- For healthy skin that's aglow with happiness, have a facial 10 days before the ceremony. Follow a skin care routine in the weeks preceding the wedding, but don't try any new products just before the big day. You may have an allergic reaction, and it's not worth the risk.

- Visit your dentist a few days before the wedding to have your teeth cleaned. If there's one thing you'll be doing a lot of on your wedding day, it's smiling. You'll want your teeth looking their whitest.

- Have a manicure the day before the wedding, and choose a shade of polish that is subtle—one which will complement either your flowers or the colors which you've chosen for your wedding party.

- Take a deep breath and relax. This is going to be one of the happiest days of your life.

Portrait hints

If you'll soon be facing the camera for your engagement or wedding portraits, here are helpful recommendations.

Don't wear heavy makeup! It has a harsh and aging effect. Since an engaged girl or the bride should look fresh and natural, be careful about using exaggerated cosmetic techniques. It is the fastest way to date the photograph.

For a smooth, soft, dewy look, apply a rinse-off cold cream before making up for a lightly emollient base. Then specialists suggest that you wear medium-tone foundation and powder, and a medium shade of lipstick, accented with lip gloss for sheen. Don't apply very pale lipstick for a picture. It won't show up.

Little tricks can fool the camera. For instance, you can camouflage laugh and frown lines and blemishes by covering them with white liner or shadow stick. Then blend with fingertips, and powder as usual.

To give a broad nose an aquiline appearance, apply a darker foundation on each side, blending thoroughly to avoid too strong a shadow. To shorten a long nose, blend in a bit of darker foundation at the nose tip. And if features are less-than-perfect, try posing with your face at a slight angle to the camera, with head up and chin lifted.

Eyes laden with false lashes and over-stated styling are not suitable for a bridal portrait.

Be especially artful in applying eye make-up if you wear glasses. The lenses of your glasses enlarge the eye area, so you need the barest minimum of definition. In most cases, the frames of your glasses will provide enough emphasis.

For relaxed, graceful hands, try a trick that the models use. Before the picture is snapped, lift both hands high into the air to ease tension and minimize prominent veins. Then return hands to position and clasp them lightly, slightly angled for a slender look. Repeat this procedure often.

Plan wedding makeup and try it out with dress and accessories far in advance of the wedding day, advises Glenn Roberts of Elizabeth Arden.

"Since wearing all white and dim church lighting tend to 'wash out' features, don't be afraid to wear plenty of color in lively pastels," he says.

Marriage thoughts abound

Old-fashioned approach

Marriage customs still prevail

So many traditions, so much fuss, such excitement! As we enter into the '80s, there are as many "something old" as there are "something new" about the attitudes and ceremonies which surround the matrimonial contract.

Individual attitudes, of course, do vary, but there is a general trend in the United States today towards a traditional—even old-fashioned—approach to marriage.

Time-honored customs, which have been handed down from the Victorian age and earlier, serve as guidelines for most young couples as they prepare to establish a life together.

From such charming customs as a young man's asking a young woman's father for her hand in marriage to the new bride's tossing the bouquet before leaving the reception, today's wedding practices have distinct similarities to those of the past.

In the weeks—even months—that precede the wedding, both the bride's and the groom's families become absorbed in planning for the wedding.

Wedding attire, flowers for the church and reception, food and drink are ordered; vows are composed, invitations are written; travel reservations are made, and even the champagne with which the newlyweds will be toasted is chosen.

In fact, weddings hold such importance in modern-day society that an estimated 26 million couples will wed in this decade, according to Barbara Tober, Editor-in-Chief of "Bride's" magazine. This number would seem to indicate that weddings have never been more popular.

A clear break has been made with the past, however, as it is no longer the popular attitude among women that they must "yield" to the man who chooses to "take" them as lawfully-wedded wives.

Today's bride chooses instead to enter into a partnership with a man, sharing equally with him the responsibilities, duties and pleasures of the marriage.

A contemporary bride enjoys a considerably better position than did her Victorian counterpart. "More than 90 percent of all new brides, continue to work after the wedding," notes Mrs. Tober.

The bride can expect her new husband to share in the household chores, just as she expects to augment their joint income with her salary.

It would be no more surprising for him to whip up a chocolate mousse than it would be for her to repair a leaky faucet. Or, when the time comes, for him to get up for the 3 a.m. feeding that it would be for her to do so. Equality has arrived in marriage.

The average age of American brides is 22 years, with women from urban areas being slightly older. Today's bride is four years older than the typical Victorian bride, whose average age was 18 years at the time of her wedding.

Being older, today's bride has more often than not established her own career, with goals and aspirations her Victorian sisters could not have imagined. She has set a life course for herself which does not necessarily hinge upon whether or not she marries.

When she walks down that aisle, dressed in the long white gown reminiscent of the Victorian era, today's bride can be assured of her independence as she is satisfied with her decision to enter into one of the oldest and most beautiful of all human associations.

History of rings

sented on the wedding ring—this gave it the power to ward off ills.

In the Tudor period in England, wedding rings were frequently richly embellished with precious stones which boasted mystical significance. For instance, the emerald represented peace and happiness; the diamond, faith; the ruby, glory; the sapphire, hope; and so on.

One fashion that gained favor in 18th century England was the poesy ring. Inside, there would be an inscription which reflected the deepest feelings of the newly married couple.

One interesting wrinkle in wedding ring lore—in Ireland, in the 1800s, if a man didn't have enough money to buy a wedding ring for his bride, he would rent one for use during the wedding ceremony. It's to be hoped that the love felt by the two people married in such a way was more lasting than the bride's possession of the wedding ring.

And, what of a ring for the groom? Is today's increasingly popular double ring ceremony a phenomenon of the 20th century? With This Ring says, not necessarily, and cites the case of a man named Nicholas Blundell who, way back in 1703, purchased two rings—one for himself as well as one for his bride-to-be.

And this, very simply is an idea which more and more people are beginning to feel "runs rings" around the more traditional one where the bride only receives a wedding ring from her groom.

The exchange of rings parallels the exchange of vows, and is the symbol of the deep mutual commitment both partners have made. What could be more romantic?

Marriage thoughts

Marriage is popular because it combines the maximum of temptation with the maximum of opportunity.

George Bernard Shaw

When widows exclaim loudly against second marriage, I would always lay wager, that the man, if not the wedding-day, is absolutely fixed on.

Henry Fielding
